INTRODUCTION.

My object in preparing this work has been to give an account of the wise and beneficent administration of His Excellency the late Sir Salar Jung, Regent and Prime Minister of Hyderabad, as developed in the year 1290 Fasli = A.D. 1880, with occasional references to the progress of the work of administration under him in previous years. I have also compared the condition of the territory administered by him with that of the surrounding Provinces in several of the most important particulars. I have already explained in the Dedication that the work was taken in hand during His Excellency's lifetime, that is to say, in 1291 Fasli. Had he lived to see the reforms contemplated by him fully carried out, he would have occupied a still higher place in the roll of great Statesmen than that already assigned to him by the public judgment.

CHAPTER I.

HYDERABAD (DECCAN),

Its Various Divisions, Area, and Population.

CHAPTER I.

HYDERABAD (DECCAN),

Its Various Divisions, Area, and Population.

MAIN DIVISIONS.

1. There are two main divisions of His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk's territories :—
Main divisions.
- I. The Hyderabad Dominion, under the administration of His Highness' Government; and
- II. The Berar Province, or the Hyderabad Assigned Districts, under the British Administration.

Both these main divisions comprise an area of 1,00,408 square miles,* with a population of 1,25,11,267 souls,† according to the latest Census Returns for 1881.

I.

SECTION FIRST.

THE HYDERABAD DOMINION.

2. The first division of His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk's territories contains 82,698 square miles, Hyderabad Proper. with 98,45,594 persons.

It will be convenient to treat of it under the heads geographical or territorial, and civil or administrative.

* Briggs, (Nizam, I. 2), Col. Malleson (Native States of India, p. 277) and Dr. Pope (Text Book of Indian History, p. 18) give 95,337 square miles. The Southern Gazetteer (p. 650) has 90,000, and Hamilton (Gazetteer of India, Vol. I. p. 633) has 95,000 square miles. Sir Charles Aitchison (Treaties and Engagements, Vol. VI. p. 143) and Talboys Wheeler (The Imperial Assemblage, 1877) make about 98,000. Dr. Hunter (Imperial Gazetteer, Vol. III. p. 500) gives 97,728, and Col. Thullier (Manual of Survey of India, 1876) 97,887.

† Talboys Wheeler (The Imperial Assemblage, 1877) gives about nine millions; Col. Malleson (Native States of India), Sir Charles Aitchison (Treaties and Engagements, VI. p. 143,) and Dr. Pope (Text Book of Indian History) 1,06,86,080; Dr. Hunter (Imperial Gazetteer, Vol. III. p. 505) estimates the population of Berar at 22,26,496, and the population of the remainder of the Hyderabad territories at 90,00,000.

Hyderabad, Geographical,
&c., Divisions.

3. The geographical, ethnological, or linguistic divisions of Hyderabad proper are:—

1. Mahrattwari.
2. Telingana.
3. Kanara.

The area and population of each of the above three divisions are as follow :—

	Square Miles.	POPULATION.
(1.) Mahrattwari.
North-Western Division	14,983	18,72,637
Western Division	12,308	20,85,151
Total.....	27,291	39,57,788
(2.) Telingana.
Northern Division	18,983	20,82,131
Eastern Division	20,407	17,17,630
Hyderabad City and District	3,385	7,34,710
Total.....	42,775	44,84,471
(3.) Kanara.
Southern Division	12,632	14,03,335
GRAND TOTAL.....	82,698	98,45,594

4. The Hyderabad territory is divided into two main Agricultural Divisions, which comprises the wheat-producing and the other the rice-producing districts, called respectively the dry and wet cultivation districts. The area and population of each of these two divisions are given below :—

	Area in Sq. Miles.	POPULATION.
Dry.....	39,923	53,61,123
Wet.....	42,775	44,84,471
TOTAL ...	82,698	98,45,594

5. The territorial divisions are (1) Jagir, and (2) Khalisa lands; that is (1) land not paying revenue, quit-rent or Peishkash to the Government; and (2) land paying Government revenue in the shape of rent (or land revenue proper), Pan Makto, and Sarbasta (quit-rent), and Peishkash; also Khalisa Inam lands.

SECTION SECOND.

JAGIRS IN GENERAL.

6. A brief account of Jagirs in general will not be considered out of place here. The Jagir was a territorial division—con- tinued. Origin of Jagirs. tenure common among the Mohammadan Governments, under the general appellations of Inam-al-Tumgha, and Madad Ma-ash, in which the public revenue of a given tract of land was made over to a servant of the State, together with the powers requisite to enable him to collect and appropriate such revenue, and to administer the general government of the territory so assigned. The assignment was either conditional or otherwise; in the former case, some public service, as the levy and maintenance of troops or some other specified duty was engaged for; while in the latter the land was left entirely at the disposal of the grantee. The assignment was either for a stated term, or more usually for the life-time of the holder, lapsing on his death to the State, although frequently renewed to his heir on the payment of a Nazrana; and sometimes specified to be a hereditary assignment, without which specification it was held to be a life tenure.

7. The right or interest conveyed by an Al-Tumgha Jagir tenure is not transferable by sale, gift or bequest, or by any other mode of transfer; and the nature of the grant, as well as the understanding and practice of the Moghul Government appears to have corresponded with this view. The Al-Tumgha may be considered in the light of an entail upon the grantee and his heirs. In default of heirs the Jagir reverts to the State.

8. Al-Tumgha is derived from the Turkish words, Al and Tumgha, both which signify the royal signet. Al in Persian implies also a scarlet colour, and therefore it has been supposed to mean the Emperor's red signet. It is difficult to say when Al-Tumgha was introduced into the Revenue terminology of India, in the sense either of a seal or a grant. It certainly does not appear to have been in common and practical use in the fiscal language of the country in Akbar's time. In the Institutes (Ain) of Akbar, Sayurgahal, a Chaghatai word, is used for free grants of land as Madad Ma-ash. This latter term signifies 'means of subsistence,' and differs for this reason from Jagir or Tuyul lands which were conferred, for a specified time, on Mansabdars in lieu of salaries.

9. The Jagir may be said to be a military tenure. Its origin in India may be traced to the following practice of Timour. He ordered the whole of the revenue of the country to be divided into lots of different amounts, and directed that these lots should be written on a royal assignment, Yurligh. These assignments were brought to the Divankhana (Exchequer) to be entered perhaps. Each of the Omra and Mingbaushis (officers of horse, who received sixty times the pay of a trooper) received one of these assignments. If the amount was greater than his own allowance, he was to share it with another; if less, he got another to make up the amount. Timour directed, however, that no Amir or Mingbaushi should collect more from the subject than the established revenue and taxes; and for this purpose, and to keep an account of the Jama, and of the payments and shares of the Ryots, &c., to every province on which royal assignments were granted, he appointed two Vazirs; one of whom was to take care that the Jagirdar should not oppress the Ryots. The Jagirdars got the grant first for three years; at the end of the period the country was inspected. If it was found in a flourishing condition, and the peasantry were contented, the Jagir was continued; otherwise it was resumed, and the Jagirdar was punished by withholding from him his subsistence for three years following.

Jagirs in this State.
Their nature.

10. The Jagir lands are now of five kinds:—

(a) Al-Tumgha Jagir or Imam-al-Tumgha: These are permanent, perpetual and hereditary grants.

- ✓(b) Zat Jagirs or grants made of large portions of land for the maintenance of the grantees and mostly personal.
- ✓(c) Jagir Nigehdasht Jamiat or Paigah: These are assignments of groups of villages or Parganahs to some one of the nobility or gentry of the State in lieu of levying a certain number of troops whose expenses are to be defrayed from the proceeds thereof.
- (d) Tankhahi Mahalat, which resemble the third kind, but are of a later origin and are not legitimate in their nature. These had their origin in the times when the State was involved in pecuniary difficulties, when the Jamadars or Military chiefs lost no opportunity of taking charge of Khalisa talukas as guarantee for the regular payment of their establishments, and paid their troops from the proceeds thereof. By and by the infection spread and the other recipients of cash allowances too, such as Mansabdars, Rsumdars, Heads of offices and establishments, creditors of the State or Sakus, as they were called, followed the same example. In this sense Tankhahi Jagirs are no more than assignments of villages, Parganahs or talukas in lieu of certain State debts or advances made to Government or for the pay of offices, establishments or troops.
- (e) Sarfekhas (or Crown) Jagirs which are assigned to His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk in lieu of cash payments from the Public Treasury. They also include some personal Jagirs.
- These lands are not administered by His Highness' Government, except the last, nearly all of which was placed under the charge of the Government during the minority of the present Nizam-ul-Mulk.
- ✓ 11. The Jagirdars, as a rule, do not pay to the Government, or directly to His Highness, any amount of annual tribute, Nazrana, or fee. They hold free grants of land. But there are a few who do pay the Chauth or Mokassa either directly to His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk or to the Government.

12. The Mahrattas demanded one-fourth of the Government collection as their Chauth. The chiefs, left by the Moghul Emperors in charge of the Origin of Chauth.

Deccan, first faintly opposed, and then conciliated the Mahrattas: a truce was concluded about A.D. 1710, by which they yielded the Chauth or one-fourth of the Government collections to the Mahrattas. This was confirmed by the Emperor Mohammad Shah in 1719. The fourth thus acquired was called by the Mahrattas the Chauth. A fourth of this Chauth or 25 per cent. was reserved for the Raja, and collected by the Priti Nidhi, the Peishwa and the Punt Suchew under the name of Babti. The remainder of the Chauth, i.e., 75 per cent., was called Mokassa, and was apportioned among the Sirdars on condition of maintaining troops and bearing certain expenses. This Mokassa was sub-divided into two heads: (1) Sahotra and (2) Ain Mokassa. The Sahotra or six per cent. of the whole Chauth was given to the Punt Suchew, leaving the Ain Mokassa to be divided among the other Sirdars as already described.

13. There are certain Jagirdars who pay Chauth to His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk's Government. These formerly used to pay Chauth-paying Jagirs.

Chauth under the different heads described above to the Mahratta Government of Poona; and, since the dismemberment of the Poona Government, have continued to pay the same to that of His Highness. The total amount levied from these Jagirdars is Rs. 64,596.

14. The undermentioned Jagirdars pay annually the sum specified against their names as a contribution directly to His Highness:

AREA AND POPULATION OF THE JAGIRS.

15. There are about 6,848 Jagir villages of all descriptions, with a population of 31,63,705 souls. The area of all of the Jagirs is not known. Most of the isolated Jagir villages are scattered all over the Khalisa territory, and their area, not being separately ascertainable, is included in the 71,589 square miles of the Khalisa territory. (Vide p. 44.)

17. The classification of the above Jagirs under each of the five classes described in para. 10, together with their history, will be given in a separate chapter hereafter. I will describe here only the Paigah and Sarfkhas Jagirs of the 3rd and 5th classes respectively.

PAIGAH (MILITARY) JAGIRS.

18. The Paigah Jagirs or the Talukas assigned to His Excellency the Navvab Shams-ul-Omra Amir Kabir Bahadur, in lieu of payment to His Highness' household troops, comprise an area of about 2,373 square miles, 1,007 villages and 5,29,098 persons. The word Paigah means "stable." In this account I have excluded Bhalki which is a Zat Jagir of the Amir Kabir, and Kharka Bara Halli, a Sarfkhas taluka, the administration of which is entrusted to the Navvab Shams-ul-Omra.

19. The present Paigah Jagirs are divided into two classes : (1) those belonging to the late Co-Regent Navvab Oomdat-ul-Mulk Shams-ul-Omra Amir Kabir Fakhr-ud-Din Khan, now in the possession of his nephew the Navvab Bashir-ud-Dowlah Bahadur; and (2) those appertaining to his brother the late Co-Regent Navvab Vikar-ul-Omra, afterwards Shams-ul-Omra Amir Kabir Rashid-ud-Din Khan, who died in 1291 F.=13th December 1881. And since the death of the latter another division has taken place in the Talukas between the Navvab Shams-ul-Omra Amir Kabir Khurshid Jāh Bahadur and Ikbal-ud-Dowlah Bahadur Vikar-ul-Omra, too tedious to detail.

20. The Paigah Jagirs were first assigned by H. H. the Navvab Nizam Ali Khan, Nizam-ul-Mulk

History of Paigah. Asaf Jāh Ghayfān Ma-āb to Abul Khair Khan, the first Shams-ul-Omra, for the purpose indicated by the word Paigah (stable), that is for the maintenance of a body of horse, called His Highness' household troops. The yield of the lands assigned to the Paigah party was formerly much larger. On the death of the first Shams-ul-Omra, Sir John Kenneway said that they were rated at 38 lakhs, but was supposed to yield 54 lakhs of Rupees a year. The official amount of their annual yield during His Highness the Navvab Secunder Jāh Nizam-ul-Mulk Maghfarat Mansil's reign was Rs. 29,57,301 for the maintenance of troops and Rs. 82,243 for personal Jagir. His Highness the Navvab Secunder Jāh Nizam-ul-Mulk Maghfarat Mansil had resumed several Talukas of Paigah, and the annual net yield of the remaining Paigah Talukas was reduced to Rs. 11,24,127.

But his late Highness the Navvab Afzal-ud-Dowlah Bahadur Nizam-ul-Mulk Maghfarat Mākan restored some of the Talukas thus resumed, to the second Shams-ul-Omra (the first Amir Kabir) Fakhr-ud-Din Khan, and their annual revenue, apart from Zat Jagir Talukas, is now estimated at Rs. 29,69,555.

21. The following statement of Paigah Jagirs, excluding Zat Jagirs, is framed on the Census Returns for 1881 :—

SARFKHAS TALUKAS.

22. The Sarfkhas, the nature of which has been explained in para. 10, consists of an entire district surrounding Hyderabad City (Atraf Bal-da), two talukas in Bidar, two in Aurangabad, one in Nander, four in Naldrug, one in Birh, and one included in the Paigah territory in Nander, and a few villages in Gulbarga, Medak, Elgandal, Khammam, Nalgunda, and Nagar Karnul. The whole comprises an area of 7,113 square miles, 1,443 villages, with a population of 6,93,398 souls.

All these talukas, as well as those in Berar, but not those in Naldrug and Birh, were detached and taken under his immediate management by His late Highness Navvab Nasir-ud-Dowlah Bahadur, partly from the cash payment made from the Divani Treasury to meet the expenses of the palace, and partly for the payment of annuities of His Highness' blood relations and of Mansabdars attached to the court. The latter (i.e., the Sarfkhas Talukas in Naldrug and Birh districts) were afterwards assigned in lieu of those in Berar, mentioned in para. 31 of this Chapter.

Subjoined is a list of the Sarfkhas talukas, with their area and population:—

SECTION THIRD.

THE KHALISA OR DIVANI TERRITORY.

23. The second territorial division of Hyderabad proper is called Khalisa or Divani territory. The word Khalisa, as applied to lands, means those of which the revenue remains the property of Government, not being made over as Jagir or Inam to any other party; or lands or villages held immediately of Government and of which the State is manager or holder. It is under the administration of the Divan or Prime Minister, of His Highness' Government, and hence called Divani.

24. The territory left under the direct management of the Divan at the beginning of the administration of Growth of the Divani Territory. His Excellency the Navvab Sir Salar Jung in 1263 F.=1853 A.D., after eliminating the Berar, Raichur Doab, and Naldurg, or Assigned Districts—about 26,000 square miles*—was very inconsiderable. The rest of the Khalisa territory was to a considerable extent in the possession of the military chiefs in lieu of the payments for the troops. The actual extent of the talukas thus assigned to the military chiefs, or other creditors, as well as of that left in the direct management of the Divan, is not ascertainable, but the Divani land including petty Jagirs is conjectured to have been about 40,000 square miles. It now amounts to 71,589 square miles, or considerably more than half as much again as that which existed in A.D. 1853=1263 F. The acquisitions which have so greatly increased the extent of the Divani territory have been chiefly the resumptions of Tankhah Jagir talukas, the restored districts, the redeemed talukas, and the reversion of the Shorapur principality, and lastly the resumption of some Zat or personal Jagirs, as shown below. The amount of land revenue of these acquisitions at the time of their being annexed to the Khalisa can readily be computed, but the area can be given only approximately.

Acquisitions.	Area in Square Miles, in round numbers.	Amount of Revenue in H. S. Rupees
1. Resumption of Tankhah Jagirs	13,000	29,70,000
2. Redemption of mortgaged talukas	4,000	6,37,700
3. Resumption of Zat Jagirs	2,900	3,48,200
4. A portion of the restored district	8,100	22,63,500
5. Shorapur Principality	2,000	4,04,100
	30,000	66,23,500

RESUMPTION OF TANKHAH JAGIRS.

25. A good many of the Tankhah Jagirs, whose annual revenue amounted to Rupees 42,93,980 Tankhah Makala resumed. at the end of the last Ministry, have been gradually resumed during the present administration.

* I estimate the whole Assigned Districts in A.D. 1853 to be 29,000 square miles, and deduct 3,000 square miles, the area of the Surlikhas and other Jagir talukas of Navvab Seraj-ul-Mulk, situated within Berar, but not assigned to the British

The annual yield of the Tankhah Jagirs resumed up to 1290 Fasli amounts to Rupees 29,70,066-0-7. These may be classified as follows:—

TALUKAS REDEEMED FROM MORTGAGE.

26. During the former administrations a certain number of talukas, viz: Basmat, &c., were made over to an Arab Military Chief, Jamadar

Jan-Baz Jung Bahadur, Omer-bin-Oud as a guarantee for certain pecuniary obligations. These talukas were lately redeemed from Saif-ud-Dowlah Barq Jung Bahadur, a descendant of the original creditor, in 1277 Fasli, and included in the district of Nander. Their annual revenues at the time of redemption were as shown below:—

	Rs.	a.	p.

In addition to these there are some villages as well, which have been from time to time redeemed during the present administration.

The total amount of land thus redeemed from mortgage is valued at Rs. 6,37,700.

This item is included in the sum of Rs. 12,79,965-8-9 shown on p. 10 of the Financial Statement of the Divani Districts of H. H. the Nizam-ul-Mulk's Government for 1288 F., where a historical summary of the past financial condition is given.

RESUMPTIONS AND GRANTS OF JAGIRS.

28. A good many Zat Jagirs have been resumed by the Government, owing either to their Jagirs resumed. possessors not having valid titles to them, or to their lapsing to the State by failure of heirs. The annual amount of Jagirs thus resumed under the present administration is estimated at Rs. 8,96,875, (Vide Appendix B.) Of these resumptions, Jagirs amounting to Rs. 5,73,603 were resumed up to 1284 F., and the item is included in the sum of Rs. 12,79,965-8-9 shown in page 10 of the Financial Statement for 1288 F.

THE RESTORED DISTRICTS.

31. In 1271 Fasli (1861 A.D.), a considerable portion of the Assigned Districts, described above, was re-transferred to His Highness' Government. The restored districts consisted of the Raichur Doab and the districts on the Western frontier of His Highness' Dominions adjoining the Collectorate of Ahmednagar and Sholapur. The gross revenue of such restored districts amounted to Rupees 33,11,228. But the Sarkkhas talukas amounting to Rs. 4,91,802, and the Jagir talukas belonging to the Navvab Seraj-ul-Mulk Bahadur, amounting to Rupees 3,85,698-1-9 situated in Berar, which were not assigned in 1263 Fasli, were now transferred to the British Resident at Hyderabad. The area of all the restored districts was 11,328 square miles.

THE SHORAPUR PRINCIPALITY.

33. By the treaty of 1800 A.D., entered into between the British and His Highness' Government, Shorapur.

it was stipulated that the former should interpose on behalf of the latter, should the Raja of Shorapur at any time withhold payment of the tribute due by him, or refuse to satisfy any lawful claims of His Highness.

The original tribute had been comparatively low, but the Government had increased it on various pretences. On the occasion of the late Raja's father's death a Nazrana or succession fee of fifteen lakhs had been exacted by Maharaja Chandu Lal,

* This taluka was given to the Navvab Sir Salar Jung by His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk in exchange for His Excellency's Jagir in Berar assigned to the British management in 1861.

† These talukas were retained by His Highness as his private Jagir or Sarkkhas in lieu of Sarkkhas talukas in Berar assigned in 1861.

N.B.—After deducting Koppal and Dharaseon talukas the remaining territory, yielding Rs. 22,63,200, was brought under Divani administration. It is included in the item of Rs. 26,84,725 shown at p. 10 of the Financial Statement for 1288 F.

which was to be liquidated by instalments. This demand led to many complications, in which the British Government had always been obliged under the terms of the treaty to take a part.

34. The principality was administered under British rule during the minority of the late Raja. Shorapur under British Administration. At Col. Meadows Taylor's suggestion in 1842 a new arrangement was entered into between His Highness' Government and the State of Shorapur, under which another division of the Parganahs or counties was authorized, ceding that of Deodrag to His Highness and retaining that of Andola on the frontier line. His Highness' Government gave up all claim to arrears of tribute and succession duty (Nazrana) and the annual tribute was now fixed at 60,000 Rupees. The retention of Andola and remission of all arrears of tribute, the interest on which at the ordinary market rate of 12 per cent. would be 60,000 Rupees, were terms most favourable to the principality. The tribute was regularly paid through the Resident to His Highness' Government.

In 1858 the Raja, having attained his majority, was put in charge of his own state and Colonel Meadows Taylor's connection with that principality ceased.

35. Early in 1858 the Raja Yenkatappa Naik Bulwunt Bahari Bahadur had rebelled against the British Government. He had collected Arab and Rohilla mercenaries in addition to assembling his own troops, while he was more than suspected of holding communication with foreign mercenaries at Hyderabad. The Resident had sent a strong force under Colonel Malcolm and stationed it about equal distance between the Baydars of Shorapur and those of the Southern Mahratta country. Colonel Hughes with a Madras force watched the Eastern frontier of Shorapur and the Contingent troops at Lingsugur lay, as it were, between the two forces, ready to act in concert with either, according to the necessity of the case. On the part of His Excellency Sir Salar Jung Mukhtar-ul-Mulk Bahadur, the Prime Minister, Raja Rameshvar Rao Bulwunt Bahari Bahadur Zamindar of Wanparti and Syed Mohammad Hafiz Ziladar were sent with a force of one thousand strong to the Shorapur frontier with orders to attack and arrest all men found with arms in the territory of Shorapur. Express orders were sent to Bazid Khan, Minsar Jung, Kishun Rao, Mohammad Ismael, Dilayar Navaz Jung, Talukdars, Ziladars and Zamindars, to prevent any of the Shorapur refugees from passing across the country, and to arrest them should any attempt to force a passage, as well as to prevent any one proceeding to Shorapur from Hyderabad territory. A reward of five thousand Rupees was offered for the arrest of the refractory Raja, and Gholam Yassin Khan Bahadur was ordered to go with 100 sowars in pursuit of the fugitive.

The Raja was captured in the City by Raja Rameshvar Rao and brought before His Excellency the Prime Minister who handed him over to the Resident. The sentence of death passed on the Raja was commuted to four years' imprisonment in a fortress near Madras, but he perished by his own hand, intentionally or otherwise, at his first encampment on the way to Madras.

36. Thus the principality was confiscated by the British Government in 1858 owing to the rebellion of its Raja and was ceded to His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk as a mark of the high esteem in which His Highness was held by Her Majesty the Queen. The annual revenue of the Shorapur principality when thus transferred was Rs. 3,26,600-11-9 British Currency or 4,04,148-13-9* Halli Siccas at the average rate of 21 per cent. discount. His Highness gave over the principality to the Khalisa in lieu of a cash allowance of Rs. 5,45,454 per annum.

CEDED TALUKAS.

37. In the same year were ceded to the British Government in full sovereignty all the possessions of His Highness to the left banks of the river Godavery and of the river Wyneganga above the confluence of the two rivers, namely, the talukas detailed below :—

Rakapalli Taluka	} 1,953 square miles.
Bhadrachellum Taluka
Cherla Taluka
Albaka Taluka
Nugur Taluka
Seroncha Taluka

* These figures are included in the item of Rs. 26,84,725 shown at page 10 of the Financial Statement for 1285 F.

No compensation whatever was received for this cession, except indirectly, as it was understood that the British required an assignment of Rs. 32,50,000 in Berar, but would forego 50,000 Rupees as a compensation for the above cession.

The value of those districts on the left bank of the Godavery, ceded to the Madras Presidency, was not ascertained, since no compensation was to be received for them. The Times of India, in its issue of the 13th July 1867, declared the cession to be "worth (reckoning wood-land and forest) at half a million." The Daftardars gave out the net revenue to be Rs. 16,044-9-9.* These talukas were entrusted to Major (now Major-General) Glasford, Assistant Agent to the Governor-General for the Godavery District.

EXCHANGE WITH BRITISH TERRITORY.

38. His Highness the Maharaja of Gwalior, Sindhia Ali Jāh, had certain rights and interests in the undermentioned villages within His Highness' territories in the Aurangabad district, yielding Rs. 30,767-13-2,† which he ceded to the British Government in 1282F. = 1872 A.D. The British Government transferred the aforesaid rights and interests to His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk. TENURES OF THE Khalisa TERRITORY.

40. The second territorial division is the Khalisa land, paying Government revenue, quit-rent, or Peishkash, including small portions of Inam lands not paying revenue, as well as some isolated Jagir villages. This main division of the Hyderabad territories is, as we have already explained, under the administration of His Highness' Government, through the Dewan or Prime Minister.

* Financial Statement for 1288 F. p. 10.

† This item is included in the sum of Rs. 12,79,965 in the Financial Statement for 1288 F. as p. 10.

41. The word Khalisa, as applied to lands, means those of which the revenue directly becomes the property of the Government, not being made over in Jagir or Inam to any other party. It also means lands or villages held immediately of Government, and of which the State is manager or holder. It consists of lands paying revenue, Peishkash or quit-rent to the Government.

42. Bilmakta (Makta), or Sarbasta (when it is held by the Zamindar of a Parganah) is a sole tenure of the Khalisa land paying a quit-rent according to engagement without liability to enhancement. It is the fixed or consolidated revenue including in one aggregate sum the Mâl or Land-tax, and Abwâb or miscellaneous cesses.* The total number of Makta Villages is 931, with a population of 3,56,816 souls.

43. Peishkash is a tax, tribute, or quit-rent, a kind of present to the ruling power on receiving an appointment or assignment of revenue; or on the renewal of a grant or the like.

There are only two Peishkash holders in His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk's Dominions, the Rajas of Gadwal and Gurgunta. The former state is situated in the Raichur district, and comprises an area of 707 square miles and 82,608 souls; the latter lies in the Lingsugur district, and comprises an area of 242 square miles and a population of 12,588. The amount of Peishkash now paid by the Rajas of Gadwal and Gurgunta is Rs. 81,795-15-3 and Rs. 5,291-2-5 respectively. The Raja of Gadwal formerly used to pay the sum of Rs. 1,25,000 Chalni, but since 1275 Fasli, when the Rahdari or the transit duties levied in each taluka was abolished, the sum of Rs. 20,000 was allowed to be deducted from his tribute as a sort of compensation for the supposed loss sustained by him in remitting the vexatious tax through his state.

* The chief Makta or Sarbasta holders are the Zamindars or Deishmunks called the Rajas of Suggur, Wanparti, and Jattel and the Rani of Gopalspeth and the Deishmunks of Narkhora in the district of Nagur Karand, of Anarakhah in Shornpor, of Baswara, Domkunda and Chilanwar in Indur, and the Raja of Clincholi in Gallarga. The aggregate amount of their quit-rent is Rupees 3,43,994.

Besides these, there are good many other Maktas of isolated villages paying petty quit-rents too long for detail. The total amount of quit-rents is Rupees 8,56,000.

44. There are certain Inam lands in several villages which are rent free, technically called Kharij Jama. They were assigned to the ex-officials of Parganahs and village officers in lieu of their revenue, police, public works and religious services. But since the introduction of cash payments to the Parganah and village officers, and the establishment of a commission for the enquiry of Inams, a considerable portion of the Inam land has been resumed, the annual produce of which is assessed at Rs. 8,37,205. Those who held Inam Jagirs under a valid Sunnad have been confirmed in their rent-free grants. The area of the existing Inam lands situated within the Raiatwari Khalisa lands is 1,362 square miles, excluding the Inam lands, which are in the quit-rent and Peishkash-paying lands.

45. The important division of the Khalisa lands left undescribed in the preceding para. is the Khalisa proper or Raiatwari. Khalisa proper or the Raiatwari land which is managed directly by the Government without the intervention of a middle-man. The chief item, land revenue, is derived from this source. The total area is 70,618 square miles. The area of land, paying Government revenue, uncultivable, cultivable, and cultivated, including fallow of one year, under this head, is 2,13,20,425 acres. There are 12,631 villages and a population of 58,74,915 souls in this important part of the Khalisa lands.

CIVIL DIVISIONS OF THE DIVANI TERRITORY.

46. The Dominions of His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk were formerly divided, for administrative purposes, into Subahs (Provinces), each of which included a number of Circars (Districts), which again were divided into Mahals or Sub-Divisions of a district. The country now forming His Highness' Dominions originally consisted of six Subahs; but in course of time, and owing to political occurrences, which are matters of history, one entire Subah and considerable portions of the other five Subahs no longer belong to His Highness' Dominions. Such portions of the old Subahs, as are now included in the Nizam-ul-Mulk's Dominions, are the following:—

Subah of Hyderabad: including the Circars of Mohammadnagar, Bhongir, Nalgunda, Davarkunda, Koelkunda, Kowlas, Malangur, Pungal, Ghanpura, Medak, Warangal, Elgandal, Khammam-Mat, Arangir, and Kanha-i-Ilmas.

Subah of Aurangabad: including the Circars of Daulatabad (19 out of 28 Mahals), Jalnapur, Birh, Haveli Pattan, Dharur, Parenda (9 out of 19 Mahals), and Ahmednagar (1 out of 10 Mahals).

Subah of Bidar: including the Circars of Bidar, Kalian, Akalkote (6 out of 7 Mahals), Mozaffarnagar, Nander, and Raegarh.

Subah of Bijapur: including the Circars of Bijapur (2 out of 30 Mahals), Intiazgarh (1 out of 5 Mahals), Purgul (1 out of 15 Mahals), Hasanabad alias Gulbarga, Feroznagar alias Raichur, Nusratabad (4 out of 5 Mahals), Mudgal (10 out of 13 Mahals), and Naldrug.

Subah of Berar: including the Circars of Mahur, Pathri, Baitalbari, Basim, Kalum, Chanda, Mehkar, Gawil, Narnala, Kharla, and Ponar.

47. The divisions above-mentioned were in course of time obliterated, owing to various causes attributable to the maladministration which prevailed in His Highness' Dominions for a great length of time. To enumerate such causes here is not necessary; but three main reasons may be assigned for the confusion which took place in the boundaries of the various Circars and Mahals.

Firstly—Portions of Circars were either ceded or assigned to the East India Company or to Native Princes, thus some Circars remained only partially under His Highness' Government.

Secondly—Jagirs were granted without any regard to the local limits of the divisions, and it frequently happened that portions of two or three Circars or Mahals made up one Jagir.

Thirdly—Before the introduction of the present system of administration, the method of collecting the Government land revenue was very irregular. Portions of the country were placed in charge of individuals, regardless of the limits of the Circars or Mahals, each of such individuals making himself responsible to the Government for a certain sum of money. Such persons were called talukdars, and it often happened that one Circar or Mahal was divided among many talukdars; or portions of two or three Circars or Mahals were placed under the control of one talukdar. This division of revenue authority was entirely irregular and disproportionate, and there were some cases of an individual holding only one village under his management.

Moreover, the system of letting out portions of territory on annual or biennial leases, contributed to confuse the political divisions, every lease being renewed at the end of one or two years, and thus varying the extent of territory held by the lessee.

Such a state of things was naturally found to be very inconvenient for a proper administration of the country, and the reforms introduced in the year 1275 Fasli (1865 A.D.) entirely altered the former divisions and placed them on a new footing.

48. The most important and the largest part of His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk's Dominions is called Divani, being subject to the direct administration of the Divan or Prime Minister. The area of the territory including small detached portions of Sarkhas domains and Jagirs is 71,589 square miles, divided into five Simts or divisions, each Simt including three or four Zilas or districts and each Zila subdivided into tahsils or talukas.

The five Simts or divisions are—

- I. North-Western Division.
- II. Western Division.
- III. Southern Division.
- IV. Northern Division.
- V. Eastern Division.

Town Aurangabad.

The town continued to flourish under that name, till the reign of Aurangzebe, who, about the year 1068 Hijra, founded the present town and gave it the name of Aurangabad, at the same time making it the capital of the Viceroyalty of the Deccan. The town continued to be the seat of Government for some time, even after the dismemberment of the Moghul Empire. The seat of the Government was removed from Aurangabad to Hyderabad, the present capital of the Nizam-ul-Mulk's Dominions, but the town has still retained its importance, being next in size to Hyderabad. It contains about fifty-four Puras and about 39 Bazaars. The town covers an area of about 1,19,575 square acres, and the population has been estimated at 80,219. There is a canal, constructed by Malik Ambar, emanating from the river Harsul. There are two sections of this canal, one passes through the Delhi gate of the town, and the other through Gaumukh and Jam Bagh, enters the town and pours its waters into a reservoir from which the town is supplied.

All the Sarfkhaz talukas in the Berar and Raichur Doab, and other villages in Lohara, Gunjoti, and Alund talukas, and certain personal Jagirs, with the Jagir talukas belonging to the Navab Seraj-ul-Mulk Bahadur, and Shams-ul-Omra Bahadur's taluka of Afzalpur were left to the revenue management of officers appointed for that purpose by His Highness' Government.

80. According to the details of Parganahs and talukas inserted in the Schedule A of the treaty of the above assignment in 1853, the net yield of the territory thus assigned, exclusive of Deh-Sadir, Rusums, Maktas, Yeomias, Inams, and all other charitable allowances amounted to Rs. 47,73,433, as shown in the following abstract:—

TOTAL ...Rs.	47,73,433

Soon after it was discovered that some mistakes had been made in estimating the value of some of the assigned Parganahs and villages in the Berar Balaghat, which were transferred in lieu of the supposed deficiency in the originally estimated value of the western districts, and in consequence of this certain Parganahs, kusbahs, (towns and villages in the Berar Balaghat) yielding an annual revenue of Rs. 3,13,183 were re-transferred to His Highness' immediate authority, about four months after the original assignment.

81. The provisions of the treaty of 1853, which required the submission of annual accounts of the Restored Districts. Assigned Districts to His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk, were productive of much inconvenience and embarrassing discussions. Difficulties had also arisen regarding the levying of the 5 per cent. duty on goods under the commercial treaty of 1802 A.D. In order to remove these difficulties, and at the same time to mark the high esteem in which His Highness was held by Her Majesty the Queen, a new treaty was concluded on the 7th December 1860, by which the debt of fifty lakhs due to the East India Company was cancelled, and the districts of Dharaseon and the Raichur Doab consisting of 11,328 square miles out of the Assigned Districts were restored to His Highness. However at the same time several talukas belonging to His Highness' Sarfkhaz, and His Excellency the Navab Mukhtar-ul-Mulk's Jagirs, situated in Berar, comprising an area of 3,014 square miles, and yielding an annual revenue of Rs. 8,77,005-15-6, were transferred to the Resident's management in trust, as it was called, to make up a gross revenue of Rs. 32,00,000 British currency, for the remaining Assigned Districts. In addition to these, some villages in the Parbhani district, yielding Rs. 1,42,391-6-0 annually, were also transferred to the Resident's management, thus making a total of Rs. 10,19,397-5-6 per annum.

82. The revenue of the restored districts the Raichur Doab and Dharaseon amounted to 33,11,228 H. S. Rupees, and that of the newly assigned territory, as described above, amounted to Rs. 10,19,397; so, in fact, the districts yielding only Rs. 22,91,831 were restored.

The revenue of the restored districts for the year 1859-60 is as follows :—

Col. Malleson quoted.

83. Colonel Malleson remarks regarding the Assigned Districts:

"It deserved to be recorded that so greatly did the revenue of the ceded districts rise under British Administration that at the end of two years they were found so much to exceed the requirements, that the Governor General, Lord Dalhousie, restored to the Nizam's territory, territories yielding three lakhs of Rupees. His successor, Lord Canning, subsequently, in 1860, restored all the districts that had been ceded, with the exception of Berar, the revenues of which were found to cover the entire cost of the contingent."*

* The Native States of India, by Colonel G. B. Malleson, C. S. I., p. 294, London, 1875.

Colonel Malleson however is in error on two points. The territory yielding three lakhs of Rupees was not restored after two years; it was restored in October of the same year in which it was assigned, or, correctly speaking, within three months of the assignment.

The restoration took place not on account of the revenues of the Assigned Districts being much increased, but owing to the mistakes committed by the Daftardars (Raja Rai Rahan Bahadurs Amatwunt), in furnishing the current amount of the revenues of the districts which were subsequently assigned. The Daftardars are always inaccurate in such matters, and no reliance can be placed upon their accounts. They generally quote the figures of the ancient standard of rent-roll called "Kamil," and very seldom give the actual revenues of the present time, which are termed "Mahasil." Besides, at that time every department of the State was mismanaged. The revenues were either farmed or made over to a Government agent on the Talukdari system. In each case the gross revenue or real state of affairs was never disclosed.

The faulty account of the annual revenue of the district proposed to be assigned was prepared in a great hurry and in confusion by the Daftardars, the Minister Navvab Seraj-ul-Mulk being at the point of death, the Resident importunate, and the accounts as usual not posted up for several years past. The Madākhil and Makhārīj (the general accounts of the receipts and expenditure of the State) for the year of assignment, 1263 F. set down the annual gross revenue of the Assigned Districts at Rs. 48,25,933, when the Schedules A and B appended to the treaty of 1853 (Aitchison's "Treaties and Engagements," Vol. V., pp. 216-221), show the net amount as Rs. 47,73,433, whereas the demand and assignment was made for 50 lakhs gross receipts. Nothing short of that amount would have been accepted, nor would the difference between the gross and net amounts, as shown in the Madākhil and Makhārīj, and Schedules A and B of the treaty, have been so insignificant. In fact territories yielding a larger amount than 50 lakhs were assigned, and soon afterwards, within three months of the assignment, a portion of the same yielding Rs. 3,13,183 was restored.

Colonel Meadows Taylor, who was placed in charge of the Assigned District of Dharaseon as Deputy Commissioner, gives an instance of the carelessness evinced by the Daftardars as regards their accounts. He writes, "If I had taken the province according to the estimates on order of transfer of the late Minister and the Daftardars of Hyderabad, I should have had a revenue of about two and half lakhs, and a few scattered portions of territory, and there would have remained within my boundary line large tracts of country not under my jurisdiction. This would have caused much confusion and vexatious embarrassments, and probably constant disputes would have arisen. Now, when I had got altogether in a kind of ring-fence, as it were, I found that I should have about eleven and a half lakhs of Hyderabad."* He continues, "I did not know what the revenue of the whole district might amount to, and the accounts received from Hyderabad, if not actually designed to mislead, were at all events most incorrect and incomprehensible, proving to be of no use whatever."†

Colonel Malleon was perhaps misinformed when he wrote that in 1860 all the districts were restored with the exception of Berar. In 1861, while the Raichur Doab and Dharaseon districts were restored, Pathrud and Murtizapur, Sarfkhas and Jagir talukas and other Khalisa villages, comprising more than 3,000 square miles, and yielding an annual revenue of 10,19,397 Rupees, were assigned for the first time.

84. In the first two or three years of the British Administration, the revenues of Berar did not rise, owing to an expansion of cultivation, but mainly by resumptions of Jagirs and Inam lands and by a considerable reduction in abatements from the village assessments for village expenses and charitable allowances. Mr. A. C. (now Sir Alfred) Lyall, when Commissioner of West Berar, writes in the "Berar Gazetteer" regarding the British Administration in Berar: "The net land revenue cleared by the treasury for the first revenue year of British management exceeded the amount for previous year, because, although receipts were less, the outgoings to be set against them had been greatly reduced. The increase must also be attributed mainly to the collections from Jagir lands relinquished by the Jagirdars, and to the sequestration pending enquiry of many inam or rent-free holders."* He further says "Even in 1853, when the Nizam's Talukdars had in North Berar made over to us a squeezed orange, we began by attempting to collect the extraordinary rates to which the land revenue had been run up by predecessors, whence it may be guessed that the agriculturists did not at once discover the blessings of British rule."† such additional districts adjoining thereto as sufficed to make up a gross revenue of (32) thirty two lakhs of Rupees of the British Government currency, was to be held, according to the Treaty of 1861, by the British Government, in trust for the payment of the troops of the Hyderabad Contingent, Appa Desai's Chauth, the allowances to Mahipat Ram's family, and certain Salianadars (pensioners). His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk Asaf Jah agreed to forego all demands for an account of the receipts and expenditures of the Assigned Districts; and the British Government agreed to pay to His Highness any surplus amount that may hereafter accrue after defraying all charges described above and all future expenses of administration, the amount of such expenses being entirely at the discretion of the British Government.

86. Since the assignment during H. H. the Navvab Nasir-ud-

Dowlah's reign and during the whole period of H. H. the Navvab Afzal-ud-

Dowlah Bahadur's reign both their Highnesses had been constantly asserting and pressing their claims to the restoration of the whole of the Assigned Districts.

His Excellency the Navvab Sir Salar Jung had a long cherished desire to receive back Berar. This subject continually occupied his mind since he filled the office of the Divan. And the solemn injunctions of his two last sovereigns had made it a duty of the most sacred obligation upon him to seek its accomplishment. The assignment, which was effected in the last hours of his uncle (Navvab Seraj-ul-Mulk), had left a reproach on his family in the eyes both of the sovereign and people of the country. When Sir Salar Jung made an application for its restoration about the time that the surrender of Mysore by the British was under consideration and failed, His late Highness observed that the reproach on the Minister's family had not been removed. In September 1872, His Excellency the Prime Minister, after consultation with his colleague, Navvab Shams-ul-Omra, the Co-Regent, submitted for the approval and assent of the British Government that a "capital sum, sufficient to secure the payment of that force (the Hyderabad Contingent) as heretofore under the treaty of 1853, should be accepted from this State by the British Government and the Assigned Districts be restored to the Administration and the Government of the Nizam." The consent of the British Government was further requested to obtain from British subjects the loan requisite for carrying out this proposal, if Act 37, Geo. III., C. 152, S. 28, was considered to be still in force.

"This scheme" (of the restoration of Berar) observed Sir Salar Jung, "will not only furnish a proper security and be a deposit of treasure of His Highness the Nizam, but increase the credit of His Highness' Government, and will help this Government in constructing the long-contemplated Railway line connecting the State Railway with the Kumum and Sasty Coal Mines." "The restoration of the District," continued the Prime Minister, "will enable our Government to reduce the cost of management materially by the employment of many of our Government servants. The payment of this loan will be very easily made from the revenues of Berar, as also by the profits of the proposed Railway, but more particularly by the sale of Coal. Other public works will also be assisted by the proceeds from these sources."—[Vide the Co-Regent's published letter to the Resident, dated 19th September 1872.]

*No cash

His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, after giving his most careful consideration to the proposal, regretted that he was unable to entertain it, because the provision of a territorial guarantee was one of the fundamental principles of both territories, and because, moreover, the Minister's proposal appeared to require the borrowing of a large sum of money from English and other capitalists, upon the security of the Nizam's revenue, a measure which His Excellency in Council considered to be likely to occasion serious complications in relation with the British Government and the Hyderabad State. The Secretary of State for India in his Despatch, dated 19th March 1874, coincided with the Government of India's decision, and observed that the Act in question had not been repealed by any subsequent Statute, and that the policy which it embodied would be vigilantly maintained by Her Majesty's Government.

87. This subject was again mooted in 1877. His Excellency the Viceroy gave verbal permission (on the 2nd January) to the Navvab Sir Salar Jung to apply for the restoration of Berar after the withdrawal of his previous applications.

The Secretary of State's reply to the Navvab's memorial of 7th February 1877 was dated 19th March 1878, and received here on the 27th May 1878. Lord Salisbury remarked in his reply to the Viceroy's covering letter, dated 11th June 1877, as follows:—

"It is manifest that the treaty does not convey any absolute cession of Berar. Lord Dalhousie appears to have desired such an arrangement, but the Nizam entertained insuperable objections to it, and no attempt was made to force it on him. If the cession had been absolute, the entire sovereignty would have passed to the British Crown. No transfer of sovereignty in fact took place, but the territory remained among the dominions of the Nizam, as it had been before the treaty was assigned. The Nizam retained unimpaired all the personal dignity which this sovereignty had previously conferred upon him, and the net revenue of the Province, after all charges of Administration have been defrayed, has ever since been paid into his treasury. All that he parted with was the actual conduct of the Administration. So far the limited nature of the assignment is clearly borne out by the language of the treaties, and has always been scrupulously recognized in practice by Her Majesty's Government." His Lordship concluded by writing, "Your Excellency, in replying to his appeal on the part of the Ministers to the favour of the Crown, has noticed the inconvenience of discussing questions of this kind while the Nizam, on whose behalf they are professedly raised, is himself a minor. In this opinion I entirely concur."

His Excellency Navvab Sir Salar Jung on the part of his colleague Navvab Shams-ul-Omra and himself stated in writing on the 11th June 1878 that "we fully accept the decision of the Secretary of State, as conveyed in the above Despatch, and will take no steps whatever in the matter during the minority of His Highness."

CHAPTER II.

Changes in the Administration.

CHAPTER II.

Historical Sketch of the Changes introduced in the Form of Administration during the past 28 years, by His Excellency Sir Salar Jung Mukhtar-ul-Mulk Bahadur.

SECTION FIRST.

PREVIOUS FORM OF ADMINISTRATION.

1. In former times the official business of the Government of His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk was conducted in two offices known by the names of Daftar-i-Mal and Daftar-i-Dicani. Both these offices were under the supervision of Daftardars, whose duty consisted in keeping the State accounts and registers of grants of Jagirs, &c., whilst the administration was entirely in the hands of the Minister. A third office, called by the name of Dar-ul-Insha attended to the official correspondence of the Minister. There was also a kind of Postal Department, which, however, was not based on any system, nor did its operations extend beyond a few talukas of His Highness' Dominions.
2. In the mufassil, even in those talukas which were under the direct administration of the Government, there were no public offices of any kind. The talukdars, who received their appointments from the Government, employed clerks and other subordinate officers, as a matter of private convenience, to help them in collecting Government revenue; but no public records were kept as a matter of duty.
3. In the metropolis there were three Courts of Justice—the Dar-ul-Kaza and the Sadarat-ul-Aliya and the Kotwali. The two first were charged with the administration of justice and the last was the Police Court. But the jurisdiction of these offices was confined to the metropolis; whilst no Courts of Justice existed in the mufassil.

During Raja Chandu Lal's tenure of the office of Peishkar, the Adalat-i-Darani and the Adalat-i-Fanjdari were established. Subsequently, under the administration of Raja Ram Bakhsh, a Court of Justice was created, presided over by four Moulavis; but the jurisdiction of the Court did not extend beyond the metropolis.

4. During the first ministry of Seraj-ul-Mulk the Adalat-i- Adalat-i-Divankhana.

Divankhana was established in the metropolis; and some Courts of Justice were also established in the mufassil, presided over by Munsifs and Mir-Adls. But during the subsequent years, owing to the frequent changes of ministry, the mufassil Courts ceased to have more than only a nominal existence, and exercised no judicial functions. In fact, when the Navab Seraj-ul-Mulk was again appointed Minister, he found that these mufassil Courts of Justice, created by him during his first tenure of office, had practically ceased to exist.

5. To the mufassil talukas the Police system of the metro-police was never extended, and it may be said that till comparatively recent years, the talukdars, appointed for collecting revenue, were the only Government officers charged with the administration of the country. Most of the present departments of State, Offices, and Courts of Justice are of recent origin, and were established after the accession of His late Highness Afzal-ud-Dowlah.

SECTION SECOND.

REFORMS INTRODUCED BY H. E. SIR SALAR JUNG.

Sub-Section I.

REFORMS INTRODUCED FROM 1263 TO 1273 FASLI.

6. When Navab Mukhtar-ul-Mulk Sir Salar Jung was appointed Minister of the State, it had become only too apparent that the old system of administration was not calculated to bring prosperity to the country. The system followed under the previous administrations consisted in appointing talukdars to each taluka with no other duties than collecting Government revenue. These officials, as a rule, lived in the metropolis, and did not consider themselves bound to proceed to the talukas with the administration of which they were charged. They therefore usually employed subordinates of their own choice, without making any reference to the Government, and these subordinates as a rule were incompetent men, who in no way held themselves directly responsible to the Government, either for their behaviour or their efficiency, as their appointment or dismissal depended upon the will of the talukdars to whom they were subordinate, and not on the pleasure of the Government. Under the old system, the country could not be said to have been under the direct administration of the Minister. The powers of the talukdars, or of the subordinates appointed by them, were in no way defined. The talukdars were allowed as charges for collection of Government revenue, two annas in the rupee, or in other words, one-eighth part of the revenue they collected. But the money thus allowed to them was not spent by them on the purposes for which it was intended. By making false representations to the Government, they obtained the services of sepoys in the army, and employed them in collecting revenue; thus appropriating nearly the whole of the money allowed to them for the expenses of collecting revenue. Some talukdars adopted a different course. They leased their talukas to other persons, and thus, whilst incurring no expense in collecting revenue, appropriated the entire collection charges allowed to them by Government. The results of a system so pernicious can easily be conceived. The country was in a deplorable state of misgovernment; and so long as the system flourished, the Minister felt himself powerless to remedy the evils which were its direct and necessary consequence. The rights of the people were ignored, the interests of the State were not understood; so that the subjects and the State suffered equally. Sweeping reforms were urgently needed; and the inauguration of a perfectly new system of administration, under which every officer charged with public duties should be immediately subordinate and responsible to the Minister, was considered an absolute necessity.

7. The reforms began with a gradual dismissal of such talukdars as have been described. Other talukdars were appointed with smaller salaries and each was provided with a staff of subordinate officials who received their salaries and appointments direct from the Government to whom they considered themselves responsible for good behaviour and efficient discharge of duties. In adopting these measures, Navvab Mukhtar-ul-Mulk Salar Jung was greatly assisted by the experience he had gained previous to his appointment as Minister of the State. During the first ministry of Seraj-ul-Mulk, Navvab Salar Jung had, for about a year, administered the revenues of the talukas in Telingana in which Mr. Dighton, an English gentleman in the Nizam-ul-Mulk's service, had introduced an excellent system of collecting Government revenue. He had also found the system work very successfully during the period of four years that he held the administration of his uncle's private Jagirs. The system which thus recommended itself to the new Minister was afterwards continued by him in the talukas in Telingana, and extended generally throughout H. H. the Nizam-ul-Mulk's Dominions. Upon his receiving the appointment of Minister of the State, he based his revenue reforms upon the system which he had already tried before. The system, though open to much improvement, was simple and capable of being introduced without much difficulty or delay. It limited the Government demand from the ryots, defined the powers of talukdars, taking away from them the discretion of leasing their talukas or getting them managed by other persons, made subordinate officials responsible to Government for good behaviour, and thus placed a check upon the enormities which had been committed with impunity under the old regime.

8. The next administrative measure was the appointment of Munsifs and Mir-Adls.

Munsifs and Mir-Adls to exercise judicial powers in civil and criminal cases. These officers were gradually appointed in the Divani talukas of His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk's Dominions, to decide civil suits and to receive complaints, to investigate criminal cases and punish criminals. In the year 1265 Fasli (A.D. 1855) twenty-three of these officers held appointments at an annual expenditure of 39,000 Rupees.

9. In the metropolis, besides the Courts of Justice already mentioned, three more were created having separate jurisdictions. The Creation of New Courts of Justice in the Metropolis.

Adalat-i-Padshahi was established in 1263 Fasli (A.D. 1853); a separate Court was created in 1265 Fasli (A.D. 1855) to dispose of the disputes of Sikhs and other sepoys in the Nizam-ul-Mulk's army; whilst a third, presided over by Govind Rao, was established in 1270 Fasli (A.D. 1860) to dispose of civil suits arising within the limits of the Ilaka Peishkari.

10. Under the old system of administration, as has already been observed, no kind of Police force existed in the mufasssil. The creation of a regular and effective Police was needed; but it was not found feasible to bring it into existence at once. Simpler measures were, however, adopted to suppress dacoity and other heinous crimes of a similar nature which were rife in the mufasssil talukas. One or two hundred men of the Nizam force were placed under each of the talukdars to exercise the functions of Police. The disturbances caused in the mufasssil by Rohillas and outlaws, required stronger measures. Accordingly, a force, known by the name of Jamiat Ziladuri, was formed and placed under a number of Ziladars, whose special duty was to prevent serious disturbances of the peace. This force was stationed in various parts of the country, and especially in those localities where disturbances were most common. In 1268 Fasli (A.D. 1858) a committee consisting of four Members and one President was appointed in the metropolis to supervise and direct the operations of the Ziladari force.

11. Under the new system of administration the official work of the Minister had greatly increased. The talukdars, who were now under the direct control and supervision of the Minister, frequently sent in reports and solicited instructions from the Government, and this circumstance greatly added to the duties of the Dar-ul-Isha. A separate office called Manshi Khana was therefore established to deal with the correspondence between the Minister and the talukdars, and to issue the orders passed by him. The duties of the Dar-ul-Isha were thus limited to correspondence with the British Government, communications between the Government and the Courts of Justice, keeping the Sauuds, issuing orders to public servants, other than the talukdars in the mufasssil, and passing miscellaneous orders of usual routine.

12. Under the former system there was no Government

Government Treasury established in the Metropolis. treasury either in the metropolis or the mufassil. During the administrations of Arastu Jah and Mir Alam a Government treasury existed; but, owing to the pecuniary embarrassments into which the State had fallen during the administration of Raja Chandu Lal, the Government treasury had ceased to exist and the State had no credit in the market. In the metropolis a public treasury was established in the year 1265 Fasli (A.D. 1855), but in the mufassil Hindu bankers continued to discharge the functions of Government treasuries, a system which, though full of inconvenience, was for a time tolerated even under the new administration.

13. In the year 1270 Fasli (A.D. 1860) the Raichur Doab

Administration of Restored Districts. and the talukas of Naldurg, &c., were restored by the British Government to His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk, after having remained under British administration for eight years. The excellent system of administration which had been adopted by the British Government was continued by the Government of His Highness; though the system differed from that on which the rest of his Dominions were administered. The administration of the restored territory was thus conducted separately. The talukdars of various grades and tahsildars exercised revenue, civil and criminal powers, as in the non-regulation provinces of the British Government, whilst a regular Police force was maintained. On the other hand, the administration of the rest of His Highness' Dominions was carried on by talukdars, munsifs, and zildars, who exercised judicial and revenue powers, and also supervised the Police, which, however, was not on a regular footing. To prevent the confusion which might arise owing to this difference in the two systems of administration, two new offices were created for the restored districts. One, under the name of Kachari Azla-i-Mustarida, exercised supervision over the revenue administration of the restored districts; and another, called Sadar Adalat-i-Azla-i-Mustarida, heard appeals from the judicial decisions of the officers in the restored territory. Both these offices, in connection with the restored districts, were placed under the immediate control of the Minister, in the same manner as the department of Munshi Khana which dealt with the official business connected with the talukdars in the rest of the territories of His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk.

14. In the year 1270 Fasli (A.D. 1860) the system of farm-

To conduct this business an office was established in the metropolis. Similarly, within the next two years, the system of farming the duties payable on salt from Machly Bunder and Kokan Bunder was discontinued, and the Customs Department took charge of the duties levied on salt.

15. In the year 1271 Fasli (A.D. 1861) a Stamp Paper Office

The stamp duties, with the consent of the British Government, were extended also to the Assigned Districts of Berar.

16. In the year 1272 Fasli (A.D. 1862) a department was Sub-Section II.

REFORMS INTRODUCED FROM 1274 TO 1290 FASLI.

19. The abovementioned reforms, which had been introduced up to the year 1272 Fasli (A.D. 1862), met the exigencies of the time, and materially improved the administration. But the absence of a uniform system in the administration was a great drawback, and impeded the progress of official business. Moreover, with the exception of the restored districts, the system of administration in the mufassil had great room for improvement, and required a thorough re-organization. Between the year 1274 Fasli (A.D. 1864) and 1290 Fasli (A.D. 1880) definite measures were adopted to increase the efficiency of the administrative system by making it uniform throughout the entire Dominions of His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk.

20. In the year 1274 Fasli (A.D. 1864) a Board of Revenue was established to supervise, direct and control affairs connected with the revenue administration of the entire Divani territory including the restored districts. The establishment of the Board of Revenue made it unnecessary to maintain either the Manshi Khana or the Kachari Azla-i-Mustarida—the separate office which had been established to supervise the revenue administration of the restored districts. Both these offices were therefore abolished.

21. Amongst other duties which were assigned to the Board of Revenue, was the creation of uniform civil divisions of the Divani territory, calculated to facilitate the administration of the country. Up to this time, with the exception of the restored districts, the Divani territory was divided into talukas, but this division of administrative authority did not correspond with the territorial divisions of the country. Thus, whilst the number of talukas of the Divani territory was fixed and definite, the number of talukdars was indefinite and uncertain, and liable to increase or diminution every year. In the year 1268 Fasli (A.D. 1858) there were 61 talukdars, whilst later, in 1274 Fasli (A.D. 1864), the number was reduced to about 40, the number of talukas remaining the same. Some talukdars held only a few villages under their management, whilst others held a number of talukas. There was great disparity between the extent of the jurisdiction of various talukdars, as no definite limit was assigned to the amount of revenue with the collection of which each talukdar was charged, and it varied between 9,00,000 and 2,000 Rupees. This disparity, which was the source of great inconvenience, could only be removed by introducing a proportionate and uniform division of the Divani territory, and making the duties of talukdars commensurate with the civil divisions.

21. The restored districts were therefore amalgamated with the rest of the Divani territory; but owing to the geographical situation of the talukas of the Sarfkhas domains and the Paigah and other important Jagirs, which were interspersed among the talukas of the Divani territory, it was found impossible to make regular civil divisions of the territory into districts, so as to include only the Divani talukas. A middle course was therefore adopted, having for its principle the exclusion of such Jagir talukas as could be excluded without making the boundaries of the proposed districts irregular and awkward. Thus within the boundaries of the districts, some Sarfkhas and Jagir territory was also necessarily included. But, although these Jagir territories were to be geographically included within the limits of the Divani districts, their revenues were not to be collected by the officers of the Divani.

22. Districts were classed into three grades with reference to the approximate amount of their annual revenue, as is shown in the following table:—

Classification of Districts.

Grade of District.	Approximate Annual Revenue.
1st Grade	Rs. 12,00,000
2nd do.	„ 10,00,000
3rd do.	„ 8,00,000

23. Keeping these principles in view, the Divani territory was divided into 14 districts, comprising 74 tahsils or talukas. The follow-

24. The territorial divisions having been settled, the division of administrative authority was made accordingly. The offices of Munsifs and Mir-Adls, which were established for the administration of justice in the mufassil were abolished. A tahsildar was appointed to each taluka, having well defined judicial as well as executive powers. The tahsildars, therefore, decided civil suits and disposed of criminal cases, whilst their main function was the collection of Government revenue. A talukdar with two subordinate assistant talukdars was appointed to each district, having revenue, civil, and criminal powers, as well as the power of supervision over the tahsildars subordinate to him. An establishment or amla (clerks, &c.,) was placed under each of these officers for the proper conduct of official business.

25. The old system of dealing with Sahukars, private bankers, was abolished, and the Government established treasuries in each taluka and each district. The treasuries at the talukas were placed under the supervision of tahsildars, whilst district talukdars were placed in charge of district treasuries.

26. Talukdars were of three classes, and each class was divided into three grades, whilst tahsildars were divided into three grades.

Two more sub-divisions of Ibrahim Pattan and Amrabad were created in 1289 and 1291 A.H. The Ibrahim Pattan taluka was formerly held by Arab Eshwunt Rao as Jagir and was made a sub-division on resumption; and the Amrabad sub-division was detached from the district of Nalgunda. Both these sub-divisions were broken up in 1293 A.H., Ibrahim Pattan having been amalgamated with the Nagar Karnul district and Amrabad as a Patti was put under the same district. Another Patti by the name of Pargi was lately made, and added in the same district.

Revenue, Civil and Criminal Administration, the Police was also reorganised. The Police was separated from the Revenue authorities, and a Police force was placed on a regular and systematic footing. appointed to every district, having the power of supervising its entire Police administration and the conduct of the Inspectors of talukas who were subordinate to him. Every district was provided with a sufficient number of Constables and Sowars constituting the Police force of the district. The Police was also charged with the duty of keeping guard upon the Government Treasury in the district and the talukas and other public offices, as well as the district prisons.

31. Every Superintendent and Inspector of Police was provided with a separate subordinate establishment of clerks, &c., for his office, and a Code of Rules was framed to define the powers and duties of the newly-created Police.

32. The Superintendents were divided into three grades; and the Inspectors into two classes, each class having three grades. The following table will show the salaries of each grade:—

34. Subsequently, when the Police was taken out of the control of talukdars, and Superintendents of Police were separately appointed, the expenses of Police Office establishments increased considerably.

35. Medical and Educational Officers were also appointed in each district, and prisons were established.

36. The following table will show the monthly expense of the subordinate establishments of each of the abovementioned departments in the districts:—

37. The reforms introduced in the mufassil administration have been explained. But equally radical reforms were effected at the head-quarters. In consequence of the administrative authority being concentrated in the Minister, the work of administration had hitherto been greatly impeded. Under the new system the administrative powers were decentralised and divided among subordinate departments. In the year 1274 Faslī (A.D. 1864), as has already been mentioned, the Prime Minister appointed a Board of Revenue to supervise, direct and control the administration of the revenues of the entire Divani territory. The Board consisted of a President and four Members, and the opinion of the majority decided all questions. In order to consult the feelings of the Jagirdars and other nobles who might object to the innovation of receiving orders from persons who were not connected with the nobility, the orders of the Board were issued under the signature of Mukarram-ud-Dowlah Bahadur. And upon his being appointed to take charge of the Revenue administration under the Prime Minister, the orders of the Board of Revenue were signed by Motamid-ud-Dowlah Bahadur.

38. The Board of Revenue was thus charged with the exercise of full authority with regard to the following matters :—

Powers of Board of Revenue.

1. Agriculture.
2. Commerce.
3. Customs, &c.
4. Excise, (Abkari).
5. Stamp Paper.
6. Release of cultivators from liability to pay Government revenue, not exceeding 200 Rupees, which may have been in arrears for five years.
7. Collection of Road Cess and Municipal Cess.
8. Supervision of the Mufassil Police and the Municipal Officers of the Metropolis.
9. Construction and Repair of Roads and Sarais, (inns).
10. Repairs of Tanks, so long as the annual cost of such repairs did not exceed 3,000 Rupees per district.

39. The Board of Revenue made a rule under which every talukdar was bound to send up the following Official Papers :—

Rules framed by Board of Revenue.

1. Accounts of Increase and Expenditure.
2. Statement showing the Number, &c., of Defaulters of Government Revenue, who may be under arrest.
3. Monthly Statements of the Cash Balance in the District Treasury.

4. The Accounts of Revenue and Excise.
5. Accounts of Municipal and Road Cess.
6. Quarterly Statements of Rates at which corn and other staple commodities were sold.
7. Half-yearly Statements of Rain-fall, Crops, and Produce, &c.
8. Report on the Police Administration.
9. Annual Report on the official conduct and efficiency of Government Officers, as well as on the Revenue Administration of the district.

40. The Board of Revenue in its turn was bound to submit quarterly, half-yearly, and yearly, reports to the Government on all the matters above enumerated.

Duties of the Board of Revenue.

41. The Board of Revenue cost the Government an annual sum of Rs. 70,380 in salaries of Officers of the Board; whilst the entire land revenue of His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk's Dominions at that time amounted to Rs. 1,20,00,000.

42. The Stamp Paper Office, which since 1271 Fasli (A.D. 1861) was under the Munshi Khana, was also placed under the control and supervision of the Board of Revenue in 1274 Fasli (A.D. 1864); but five years later, on account of the increase of official business, the Stamp Paper Office was separated from the Board of Revenue, and was constituted a separate department under the control and supervision of a Superintendent of Stamps, who had an assistant and an establishment of clerks under him.

43. Under the former system of administration, rahdari or transit duties were collected irregularly, and at various places within the boundaries of His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk's Dominions. In the years 1271 and 1272 Fasli (A.D. 1861 and 1862), as has already been mentioned, the system of farming Customs duties were abolished, and in 1274 Fasli (A.D. 1864), further reforms were introduced in the Customs Department. Customs-houses were established on the frontier of His Highness' Dominions, and at important military stations. Customs duties were thus collected only at these places, and traffic in the interior was made perfectly free.

44. In 1277 Fasli (A.D. 1867) a department was established for the conservancy and management of forests, and a Superintendent was appointed to take charge of the department.

45. The country having been divided into districts, it was found necessary for the better administration of the country, to create divisions, allotting a number of districts to each division. Accordingly, in 1277 Fasli (A.D. 1867), the distribution of districts into divisions was effected, as is shown in the following table :—

Do. of Birh
Do. of Parbhani

Do. of Nander
Do. of Naldrug

46. A Sadar talukdar was to be appointed to each division, having revenue, civil and criminal authority, and powers of supervision over all the districts in his division. The talukdars of the districts were therefore to be subordinate to him, and the Court of the Sadar talukdar was also to be the "Court of Appeal" from the decisions of subordinate district talukdars. The Sadar talukdars were moreover empowered to pass final orders in matters connected with Revenue, Abkari and Stamp, when such matters did not exceed Rs. 100 in value. They could also release cultivators from the payment of Government revenue, not exceeding Rs. 500, which had been in arrears for more than five years. Sadar talukdars also sanctioned estimates of expenditure of local funds for purposes of public utility; and were empowered to spend Rs. 500 per annum, from Government revenue, in the construction and repairs of public buildings.

47. Besides hearing appeals from talukdars, the Sadar talukdars tried criminal cases which were beyond the powers of talukdars, and had the power of sentencing criminals to ten years' imprisonment, and of imposing fines to the extent of Rs. 4,000.

48. The Sadar talukdars were required to live in the central stations of the divisions, and to inspect the districts in the division by going on an inspecting tour for four months in the year.

49. In 1279 Fasli (A.D. 1869) Judicial Assistants were appointed to help Sadar talukdars and talukdars in the discharge of their judicial duties. The Judicial Assistants were graded as under :—

JUDICIAL ASSISTANTS TO SADAR TALUKDARS.

First grade Rupees 300 monthly salary.

Second do. do. 250 do. do.

JUDICIAL ASSISTANTS TO TALUKDARS.

First grade..... Rupees 200 monthly salary.

Second do. do. 150 do. do.

50. The duties assigned to these officers consisted in the preparation of records of cases and written opinions, which were submitted to their superior officers for approval. This method was to be resorted to, only when the talukdar or Sadar talukdar had pressure of other official business and could not find time to hear cases himself. In all cases, however, the final judgment and decision rested with the talukdars and Sadar talukdars in cases of their respective jurisdiction.

51. Upon the creation of divisions, five Naib Sadar Muhtasibs of Kotwali, or Deputy Inspectors-General of Police, were also appointed to each of the five divisions. These officers were subordinate to the Sadar Muhtamim Kotwali, or Inspector-General of Police who lived at the metropolis. The Deputy Inspectors-General of Police were required to live in their respective divisions, and supervise the Police administration of districts and talukas under them.

52. In the year 1285 Fasli (A.D. 1875), when the Public

Divisional Superintending
Engineers of P. W. D.

Works Department was reorganised, Sadar Muhtamims or Divisional Engineers were appointed to each division, to supervise the operations of the Public Works Department in their respective divisions.

53. In the Department of Public Instruction, Muhtamims

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

54. Many of the duties, which had hitherto been performed by the Board of Revenue, were assigned to the Sadar talukdars. The official business of the Board of Revenue was therefore greatly diminished. The Prime Minister consequently appointed three of the members of the Board of Revenue to be the first Sadar talukdars of the newly created divisions, and in the place of the Board of Revenue a Sadar Mahakma-i-Malguzari or Central Revenue Department was established under the control of two officers, one of whom was styled Muhtamim and the other Ruka. These officers were also charged with the duty of supervising matters connected with agriculture, irrigation, granting of Government leases, the issue of stamp paper and village police.

55. The Central Revenue Department existed for two years, but it was abolished in 1278 Fasli (A.D. 1868), when further changes and reforms were introduced. These consisted in the creation of Sadar-ul-Mihams or Ministers of Departments, under a

Notification issued by the Prime Minister on the 6th Rajab 1286 A.H. (A.D. 1869).* Accordingly, Navvab Mukarram-ud-Dowlah Bahadur was appointed Sadar-ul-Miham Malguzari or Minister of Revenue. He was provided with a Secretary, an Assistant Secretary, and the requisite establishment of clerks and other subordinate officers.

Extent of Revenue Minister's Administration.

56. The following branches of administration were placed under the charge of the Minister of Revenue :—

1. Agriculture and Commerce.
2. Stamp Paper (so far as it related to revenue).
3. Customs Department.
4. Forest do.
5. Abkari do.

57. The other matters of administration, which were formerly controlled by the Board of Revenue, were placed in charge of other Sadar-ul-Mihams, as will be shown hereafter.

58. The Minister of Revenue was entrusted with larger powers than those which were vested in the Board of Revenue. He was empowered to decide finally all matters within his jurisdiction not exceeding Rs. 1,000 in value, to release cultivators from payment of Government revenue (not exceeding Rs. 2,000) which had been in arrears for more than three years, to sanction estimates for the construction of public works and repairs of tanks, &c., as well as to make grants of waste lands to persons who might apply for them on condition of paying Government revenue.

59. In the year 1281 Fasli (A.D. 1871) mines and quarries were also placed under the charge of the Superintendent of Forests, whose office had already been created in 1277 Fasli

(A.D. 1867). Rules were framed for charging duty on persons working the mines and quarries. The mineral wealth of the country was thus brought to the notice of traders and merchants who had hitherto not paid attention to the employment of capital in this direction. The mines and quarries to which the action of the Government especially related were—iron-ore, red-stone, black stone, seeloo stone, granite, green-stone, flints, mica, soap-stone, white chalk, blue chalk, gopichandur, ochre, diamonds, and other precious stones, Shahabad lime-stone, &c. &c.

60. Formerly there was a small establishment connected with Inam in each district and division. Inam Commission established. In 1285 Fasli (A.D. 1875) a Central Office was established at Hyderabad, presided over by a Commissioner of Inam, with Assistants in the districts. Subsequently, however, the services of these Assistants were dispensed with, only a small establishment being retained in the districts, with a Central Office at Hyderabad.

61. In 1285 Fasli (A.D. 1875) the Survey and Settlement Department was organised and placed under the charge of a Commissioner. Revenue Survey Department organised. Operations were commenced on a small scale in the Pattan taluka, which was taken in hand by way of experiment. The experiment having succeeded, and operations consequently extended so as to embrace the entire district of Aurangabad, a Superintendent of Revenue Survey was appointed, and entrusted with the general superintendence of four or five establishments, each of which was placed under the immediate supervision of an Assistant Superintendent. This Superintendent was further assisted by a Deputy, who was entrusted with the supervision of the Accounts, Stores, Printing, and Mapping branches. In the year 1287 Fasli operations were extended to one more district, viz., Naldrug, for which a second Superintendent was appointed. Four establishments were started in this district, each of which was under the direct charge of an Assistant. The Commissioner of Revenue Survey having subsequently been appointed to the office of Revenue Secretary to Government, and continued to be in charge of this department as well, a Deputy was appointed to assist him in the general supervision of the Department.

62. In 1289 Fasli (A.D. 1879) a department was formed for the settlement of boundary disputes, and a Settlement Officer was appointed with about seven Assistants under him. Boundary-dispute Settlement Department established.

63. In 1288 Fasli (A.D. 1878) a Gazetteer Office was established only as a temporary measure, with a Compiler in Hyderabad and Assistants in the districts for the purpose of collecting information and statistics and for the purpose of compiling the Gazetteer, and he was placed under the charge of the Revenue Minister. Establishment of Gazetteer Office.

64. In 1288 Fasli (A.D. 1878) an Irrigation Department was formed for the purpose of carrying out minor irrigation works or repairs to wells, tanks and channels, and the Revenue Sadar-ul-Miham was placed in charge of the department in addition to his other duties. The Sadar-ul-Miham had an Assistant Secretary (in addition to a Secretary and Assistant for the conduct of his revenue business) for carrying on correspondence with the talukdars, who were entrusted with the supervision of irrigation works in their respective districts. The talukdars were in their turn assisted by Municipal Inspectors, who were supplied with a suitable establishment. The works were executed by tahsildars, who had two Karkuns (Vernacular Clerks) under them for the purpose. Formation of the Irrigation Branch.

65. A Census having been undertaken in 1290 Fasli (A.D. 1880), at the request of the British Government a Census Office was established in Hyderabad as a temporary measure, presided over by a Commissioner and two Assistants. Most persons of this establishment were selected from the existing staff of Government servants, without any enhancement to their salaries. Census Office established.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

66. Similar changes were introduced in the Department of Justice. The Sadar Adalati-Azla-i-Mustarida, which had been established to hear appeals from judicial officers in the restored districts, and to decide judicial references made by talukdars from the rest of the Divani territory, was converted into a Court of Appeal, having jurisdiction over the entire Divani territory, and received the name of Mahakma-i-Sadar Murafa. Reforms in the Department of Justice.

67. In the year 1282 Fasli (A.D. 1872) further changes were made. A Court of Appeal under the name of Mahakma-i-Murafa-i-Azla was established, consisting of one President and four Members. This Court, which may be described as an "Appellate Court of Judicature," heard civil and criminal appeals from all the metropolitan Courts as well as from the Courts in the mufassil. The Mahakma-i-Murafa-i-Azla was also empowered, subject to the sanction of the Prime Minister, to frame rules of procedure, &c., for the proper conduct of business in all the Courts of Justice.

68. In 1279 Fasli (A.D. 1869) the office of Sadar-ul-Miham Adalat was established, having the power of supervision over the administration of justice in the entire Divani territories. Navvab Bashir-ud-Dowlah Bahadur was appointed the first Minister of Justice, and was provided with a Secretary and the necessary establishment of clerks, &c., for the conduct of business. The Minister of Justice had under his direction and control all the Courts of Justice, whether civil or criminal, in the metropolis as well as in the mufassil. He was also charged with the supervision of the issue of stamp paper, so far as it was used in the Courts of Justice. The power of executive supervision, which formerly belonged to the Sadar Court of Appeal, was transferred to the Minister of Justice; but the Sadar Court continued to possess the judicial powers which had been conferred on it. In very exceptional cases, the Minister of Justice had the power of sending for records of cases, and if it were found that failure of justice had taken place on account of error of judgment or procedure, the Minister of Justice, by sanction of the Prime Minister, had the power to order a re-trial of the case. The Minister of Justice also obtained orders from the Prime Minister connected with the administration of justice.

POLICE.

69. As has already been observed, the Department of Police had been placed under the control and supervision of the Board of Revenue. Upon the abolition of the Board of Revenue in 1277 Fasli (A.D. 1867), a separate office of Sadar Muhtamin Kotwali or Inspector-

General of Police was established. But later on in 1279 Fasli (A.D. 1869), when a departmental reorganisation was effected, the office of Sadar-ul-Miham Kotwali or Minister of Police was created, having control over the entire Police administration, whether in the metropolis or the mufassil.

70. Navvab Shamsir Jung Bahadur was appointed to the new office of Minister of Police. Like the other Ministers, he was provided with a Secretary and the necessary establishment of clerks and other subordinate officials. The office of Inspector-General of Police remained as before, though made subject to the authority of the Minister of Police; a year later, however, it was found unnecessary, and was accordingly abolished.

MISCELLANEOUS DEPARTMENT.

71. The abolition of the Board of Revenue in 1277 Fasli (A.D. 1867) made it necessary to create a separate Department of Public Works. Accordingly, in the same year, a Sadar Muhtamin of Public Works or Chief Engineer was appointed, having the power of supervision and control over all the public works, whether in the metropolis or the mufassil. A separate Central Office of Public Works was established in the metropolis, and placed under charge of the Chief Engineer.

72. In the year 1279 Fasli (A.D. 1869) the office of Sadar-ul-Miham Mutafarikat or Minister of Miscellaneous Departments was also created to supervise and control the following departments:—

1. Public Works, &c.
2. Public Instruction.
3. Medical.
4. Municipality.
5. Village Roads.

73. Navvab Shahab Jung Bahadur was appointed to the new office of Minister of Miscellaneous Departments, having under him three Secretaries and an establishment of subordinate officers. The office of Chief Engineer was however maintained, though made subordinate to the Minister of Miscellaneous Departments.

74. A Medical College was established in 1262 Fasli (A.D. 1852), under the administration of Seraj-ul-Mulk, for training medical officers who were stationed in various talukas. But the College and the Medical Service were not placed on a systematic footing. In 1276 Fasli (A.D. 1866) a Medical Department was created under the control of an officer, who at the same time occupied the position of Principal of the Medical College at Hyderabad, the metropolis. A Medical Service was established on a regular system, and medical officers were appointed to every district.

GOVERNMENT SECRETARIATS.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT AND FINANCE.

75. The organisation of departments having been described, the arrangements, which were made to provide Secretaries to the Prime Minister at the head of the entire system of administration, remain to be mentioned. In 1274 Fasli (A.D. 1864) a Secretary of Revenue was appointed under the Prime Minister. The Secretary issued the orders of the Prime Minister connected with matters of revenue, and attended to correspondence with the Board of Revenue, the Accountant-General, and the Auditor-General. The Revenue Secretary also took charge of the functions hitherto performed with respect to the administration of the restored districts by the Kachari Asala-Mustarida, which was therefore abolished. The usual orders of the Government were issued under the signature of Navvab Mukarram-ud-Dowlah Bahadur; but the following matters were under the direct control of the Prime Minister:—

Revenue Secretary.

Matters under the direct control of the Prime Minister.

1. The planning of schemes of reform connected with Revenue, Police, Stamp Paper, and Taxes.
2. Appointment and transfer of talukdars and other officers.
3. Decision of boundary disputes, and making grants of leases, and fixing the amount of revenue payable by each village.
4. Ascertainment of Inam or rent-free lands, Yeomia and Salienna allowances, Deh-Sadr, Jagirs, and other grants.

5. Sanctioning the estimates of proposed Public Works.
6. Increase of expenditure.
7. Official correspondence with the Amirs.

76. In the discharge of these duties the Prime Minister was assisted by Mukarram-ud-Dowlah Bahadur. Upon the appointment of the Assistant of the Divan. later, in 1279 Fasli (A.D. 1869), to the office of Minister of Revenue, the Departments of Mansab (gratuitous stipends), Public Instruction, Medical Service, Public Works, Municipalities and Police, were placed under the charge of their respective Ministers, as has been already described.

77. In the year 1274 Fasli (A.D. 1864) a general office for keeping the accounts of the entire territories of His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk was established at the metropolis. An Accountant-General was placed in charge of the office, and was provided with an Assistant and an adequate establishment of subordinate officers. The Accountant-General was empowered to correspond directly with the talukdars in matters connected with his department. He was also directed to frame simple forms of tabular statements of account, and to introduce them, subject to the Prime Minister's sanction in his department, and to direct the talukdars in the mufassil to discontinue the old method of writing accounts and to adopt the system which prevailed in the restored districts. The new system was calculated to bring uniformity in the statements of accounts of all the territory. The talukdars were directed to send up to the Accountant-General's office the following official papers:—

Periodical Accounts to be forwarded to the Accountant-General.

1. Monthly statements of income and expenditure, together with vouchers and a report of cash balance in the district treasury.
2. Estimate of income and expenditure during the quarter following.
3. Quarterly tabular statements of the collection of revenue, &c.
4. Annual tabular statement of income and expenditure during the year preceding, together with abstract of Jamabandi instalments.

5. Tabular statements of irrecoverable arrears of land revenue.
6. Statement of annual leases given to cultivators.

78. At the end of every year the Accountant-General was required to submit, as soon as practicable, tabular statements showing the State accounts of income and expenditure during the past year, and the estimated income and expenditure in the year following. These statements showed the amount of debts due by the State, the amount of debts paid off, and the surplus and deficit, if any. With these statements the Accountant-General was required to send up a report expressing his opinion upon the various points connected with his department and suggesting economical measures. In 1287 Fasli the general Budget system was introduced.

79. In the year 1274 Fasli a Daftar-i-Tankih was established,

Daftar-i-Tankih, Auditor of Accounts

and placed under the charge of an Auditor, who was provided with an adequate establishment of subordinate officials. The duty of this office consisted in auditing accounts and all pay-bills before money due under them was paid from the Government Treasury.

80. In the metropolis a separate office was also established

Treasury Office in the Metropolis.

for the State Treasury, which had hitherto been in connection with the Munshi Khana.

81. In 1279 Fasli (A.D. 1869), when the Postal Department was reorganised, the office of Postmaster-General was established in the metropolis, to supervise, direct and control the postal arrangements in the entire Divani territory.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

82. In the year 1274 Fasli (A.D. 1864) a separate office

Daftar-i-Mulki, or Political Office.

called Daftar-i-Mulki was established, to take charge of all correspondence and transactions with the British Government, and to issue orders to the talukdars relating thereto. The Daftar-i-Mulki also issued orders of the Government connected with the following matters:—

1. Disturbances of the peace.
2. Highway robberies and dacoities.

3. Conspiracies against the State or the British Government.
4. Robberies of mails.
5. Orders connected with the passing of troops of the British Government or the State.
6. Orders relating to grants of Jagirs and Sunuds for services rendered to the State.
7. Issuing of orders relating to Tankhahdars and Yoomiadars received from the Revenue Department.

POLICE.

83. Upon the reorganisation of the Police force in 1277

Fasli (A.D. 1867), the Inspector-General of Police was also charged with the duties of Secretary to the Prime Minister in the Department of Police.

the Prime Minister in the Police Department was separated from that of the Inspector-General of Police, and was joined to the office of Secretary to the Prime Minister in the Department of Justice.

JUDICIAL AND LEGAL DEPARTMENT.

85. The appointment of the Judicial Secretary to the Prime Minister has been noticed in para. 17.

Department for framing
Rules and Regulations.

In the year 1285 Fasli (A.D. 1875) a department was created for framing rules and regulations for the practice of Courts of Justice, and a Nazim was appointed to take charge of the department.

86. In 1287 Fasli (A.D. 1877), the Judge of the Suburban

*Legal Secretary appointed.

Court of Judicature was made Legal Secretary to Government in addition to the office he already held, for the purpose of advising Government in legal matters, and of framing rules and regulations for the Judicial Department.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

87. In the year 1277 Fasli (A.D. 1867) improvements were introduced into the Public Works Department by establishing offices of the department in the districts also. On account of the increase of work an office of Secretary to the Prime Minister in the Public Works Department was likewise created, and the duties of the new Secretariat were attached to the office of the Chief Engineer, P. W. D.

District P. W. D. Offices.

88. In 1279 Fasli (A.D. 1869), a workshop as a department of manufacture and supply attached to the P. W. Department was established, and a sum of H. S. Rupees 395 per month was sanctioned for the establishment charges. It was at first intended that the workshop should be placed in charge of the District Engineer of Hyderabad in addition to his other duties, but this arrangement seems never to have been carried out. In the middle of 1281 Fasli (A.D. 1871), the services of an experienced Mechanical Engineer were secured as Engineer-in-charge of the workshop, who, when he came out, found that the establishment consisted of two carpenters and a clerk in charge. Subsequently machinery was ordered out from England, and in 1283 F. a foreman and skilled labourers were engaged. The P. W. Store Department was also founded in 1279 (A.D. 1869), with a small establishment to supply instruments and stationery to the P. W. Department, and placed under the immediate supervision of the Secretary to Government in the P. W. Department. In 1282 Fasli the Engineer-in-charge of the workshop was placed in charge of the Store Department in addition to his other duties. In 1285 Fasli the designation of the P. W. Store Department was changed to that of General Stores Department, and issues, which were up to this time confined to the P. W. Department, began to be made on indents to all departments of the State.

89. In 1285 Fasli (A.D. 1875) a Geological Survey Department was started and a Superintendent was temporarily appointed with an Assistant to help him. After a few months' trial it was considered undesirable to organise a survey on an extensive scale, and consequently the post of Superintendent was abolished in the same year, the Survey Department being limited to only the Assistant Superintendent for the examination of such specimens and localities as were especially brought to the notice of Government.

90. In 1876 His Highness' Government sent two students from Hyderabad to England to study geology and mining at the Royal School of Mines, London. They both returned to Hyderabad in 1289 Fasli (A.D. 1879), having obtained the diploma of Associate of the Royal School of Mines, and one of them the Murchison Medal for geology. As it has not been possible hitherto to establish a Geological Department on a proper footing, their services are at present being utilized in the Revenue Department. But a regular geological survey of the whole of His Highness' Dominions is under contemplation by Government, when the services of these gentlemen will be relegated to their proper sphere.

91. Information having been received from Mr. Blanford, of the Geological Survey of the Government of India, regarding the existence of coal in His Highness' Dominions, an exploring party was formed in 1280 Fasli (A.D. 1870), in order to examine the country by borings. In the next year, this establishment was placed under the charge of a Superintendent and an Assistant, and in 1283 Fasli (A.D. 1873) a coal viewer was appointed to assist him. In 1285 F. the establishment was reduced under the general re-organisation scheme, and a portion of the staff was left to start operations whenever it was necessary, while the remainder was engaged in various miscellaneous works, the Superintendent having been attached to the Public Works Department and the Assistant transferred to the Geological Survey.

92. In the year 1280 Fasli (A.D. 1870), a scheme for the construction of a line of Railway between Chanda and Hyderabad was submitted to Government and sanctioned. The preliminary survey of the line was first given over to two or more contractors successively, but, after the failure of the contractors, it was thought advisable to organise a permanent establishment to carry out the work departmentally, and consequently, in 1281 Fasli (A.D. 1871), the services of a Surveyor and Assistants were secured for the purpose. In the next year a Superintending and an Executive Engineer were appointed. The Survey operations having been completed, the post of the Superintending Engineer was abolished, and the establishment was engaged in the survey of roads and the preparation of irrigation projects and other miscellaneous work.

Chanda Railway Survey.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

93. In the year 1274 Fasli (A.D. 1864), an office was created for the proper conduct of business connected with the regular forces of His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk, and a Secretary and Assistant were appointed to take charge of the office. The Secretary attended to all matters connected with expenses, enlistment, appointment, transfer, &c., and issued general orders passed by the Prime Minister in the Military Department.

94. There existed no separate office for business connected with the irregular troops. Petitions and rolls of enlistment were presented to the Prime Minister by Kalamdan-Bardars, who received them from the Military Sarishtadars. An officer, however, existed, who was charged with keeping the roll of establishment and investigating some other matters connected with the irregular army. A Military Secretary was appointed in 1285 Fasli (A.D. 1876), and in the following year the Daftar of Mansabdars was also placed under the Military Secretary.

95. In the year 1285 Fasli (A.D. 1875) the Daftar-i-Nizam Jamiat was established to supervise, control and direct the enlistment, and discharge of sepoys, as well as to exercise due vigilance to ensure the proper application of the money paid to Janadars as salaries of the sepoys under them.

96. A separate office has existed since 1279 Fasli (A.D. 1869) for distributing the Mansabs of Mansabdars, and performing other duties connected with them. It was at first placed under the control of the Revenue Secretary to Government, and, in 1287 Fasli, was joined to the office of Military Secretary to Government, Irregular Troops.

PERSIAN PRIVATE SECRETARY.

97. In 1277 Fasli (A.D. 1867) the office of a Persian Private Secretary to the Prime Minister was established, and, in 1286 Fasli (A.D. 1876), the Private Secretary's office also undertook duties connected with the Miscellaneous Department, which were till then discharged by the Revenue Secretary.

98. A Government Press for printing the Government Gazette, Rules, Circulars, and other orders of Government, has existed since 1277 Fasli (A.D. 1867), under the control of the Revenue Secretary. In 1285 Fasli (A.D. 1875) the Government Press was placed under the Daftar-i-Mulki, but towards the end of 1286 Fasli (A.D. 1876), it was placed under the supervision of the Secretary to the Prime Minister in the Miscellaneous Department.

MISCELLANEOUS DEPARTMENTS.

99. In 1279 Fasli (A.D. 1869) the office of Secretary to the Prime Minister in the Miscellaneous Department was created to transact official business connected with the Educational and Medical Departments and the Municipalities, which had been previously placed under the Sadar-ul-Miham Mutafarikat. The duties of the new office were added to the office of Secretary to the Prime Minister in the Revenue Department, and afterwards (in 1286 Fasli) to the office of the Persian Private Secretary.

RAILWAY.

100. In the year 1281 Fasli (A.D. 1871), when the work of constructing a Railway (between Shahabad in the Gulbarga district and Hyderabad) was started, a separate Secretary was appointed to keep accounts of the money received on account of Railway shares, and to pay the interest to the shareholders, as well as to answer their enquiries respecting shares and other matters connected with the Railway. The Railway Secretary's post was, however, abolished in 1288 Fasli, and the office was amalgamated with that of the Central Treasury.

SARF-KHAS SECRETARY.

101. In 1279 Fasli, when his late Highness Afzal-ud-Dowlah Bahadur's Sارف-khas talukas (privy purse estates) were transferred to the Divani management, an office under a Secretary was established for the purpose of carrying out the business connected with the Sارف-khas estate.

APPENDIX.

NOTIFICATION.

[REFERRED TO AT PAGE 95.]

WHEREAS it is the desire of the Government that the official business of every department of State should be conducted with due promptitude and efficiency, and that irregularities may not in future take place, the Government has appointed four Sadar-ul-Mihams, each of whom has been placed at the head and in charge of a department. It shall be the duty of every Sadar-ul-Miham to supervise and control his own department in a manner calculated to enhance the welfare and happiness of the people, and to reflect credit upon the State.

Accordingly four Sadar-ul-Mihams, each in charge of a department, have been appointed as follows :—

For the supervision of justice and other matters connected therewith.	} Bashir-ud-Dowlah Bahadur.
For the control of matters connected with revenue.	} Mukarram-ud-Dowlah Bahadur.
For the control of matters connected with police.	} Shamshir Jung Bahadur.
For the control of miscellaneous matters.	} Mir Yavur Ali, son of the late Sazavar Jung.

The abovenamed Sadar-ul-Mihams shall enter upon the duties of their respective offices, on Wednesday, the 21st day of the current month.

In order to inform the public in what manner official business shall in future be conducted, and how applications shall be disposed of, the following paragraphs are published :—

The Sadar-ul-Miham Adalat shall have the power of supervision over all the Civil and Criminal Courts of Justice, and all Judicial Majlis (whether within the metropolis or in the mufassil Divani or Sarfkhas territories) as well as Stamp.

The Sadar-ul-Miham Malguzari shall have the power of supervision of all matters connected with the administration of Land Revenue, Customs, and Abkari duties, as well as all other matters connected with Revenue.

The Sadar-ul-Miham Kotwali shall have the power of supervision and control of the Police force, whether within the metropolis or the mufassil territories of the Divani and the Sarfkhas domains.

The Sadar-ul-Miham Mutafarrikat shall have the power of supervision and control of the Public Works, Educational, and Medical Departments, as well as all matters connected with the Municipalities of Hyderabad or Divani and Sarfkhas territories. He shall also regulate the collection of road cess.

All officers are hereby directed to communicate in future with their respective departments, and correspondence with the Government shall in future be forwarded through these departments.

Non-official persons also, having any business with the Government, shall apply to the various departments to which the business belongs.

The arrangements abovementioned having been made, it is the desire of the Government that official business should in future be conducted with facility and expedition. In order to secure this result it is necessary that persons having business with the Government, should know the proper channels through which applications should be made. The following rules are therefore promulgated for public information :—

I. Persons, having to prosecute any matters in Government office, shall submit their applications or petitions to such subordinate officers of the four departments abovementioned as are empowered to entertain such applications or petitions. If any officer, to whom an application is made, is not empowered to entertain the same, he shall return the application after having recorded on it the fact of his not possessing the power to entertain it. Orders passed by subordinate officers shall be appealable to their superior officers, and finally to the Prime Minister.

II. No application shall be entertained by a superior officer, unless it is in the nature of appeal from the order of a subordinate officer to whom the application has already been submitted. When an appeal is thus made, it shall be necessary to file, with the petition of appeal, a copy of the application made to the subordinate officer, together with the order passed by him thereon.

III. In order to avoid difficulties in the conduct of departmental business and inconvenience to the public, all Government officers are directed to furnish copies of orders to persons desirous of appealing therefrom, without charging any fees.

IV. It is necessary, as far as possible, that applications should be made in person; but in cases where the applicants cannot present themselves without loss of time, applications may be received from agents, but in no case shall anonymous applications be paid attention to.

V. When order has once been passed by the Prime Minister on any application, no further application shall be made to him with regard to the same matter, unless some fresh and important matter makes reconsideration necessary.

VI. No application shall be made to the Prime Minister with regard to any matter which belongs to any of the subordinate departments, or with regard to which Courts of Justice have the power of passing final order.

The Government is convinced that, as the abovementioned Sadar-ul-Mihams, belonging to the influential nobility of this country, have willingly undertaken these responsibilities for the public good, they will discharge the duties with due energy, zeal, and perseverance calculated to reflect credit upon them; and that the subjects of this State, as well as other persons having business in this country, shall have full facilities for prosecuting their affairs through the channels hereby prescribed.

CHAPTER III.

Form of Administration in 1290 F.

CHAPTER III.

FORM OF ADMINISTRATION IN 1290 F.

1. It would not have been out of place here if I could have been able to give a sketch of the former administrations, under the several Prime Introductory.

Ministers, Mushir-ul-Mulk Azam-ul-Omra Arastu Jáh, Mir Alam, Munir-ul-Mulk Amir-ul-Omra, Maharaja Chandu Lal, Raja Ram Bakhsh, and Navvab Seraj-ul-Mulk, but any adequate treatment of the subject would carry me beyond the scope of the present work. I therefore postpone it to some future opportunity or leave it to better and abler hands. Suffice it here to say that before the present administration of His Excellency the Navvab Sir Salar Jung Mukhtar-ul-Mulk Bahadur, G. C. S. I., D. C. L., LL. D., there was no regular or systematic form of Government, nor were there any separate departments for administration. Everything was in the hands of the Divan or the Minister without any system, organisation, constitution or regular form of administration. It was altogether a new idea, an element foreign to the old conservative mind of Hyderabad, to have any thing like an organised system of Government.

2. It is only under the present regime that we hear of the Reforms during the present administration.

several departments being organised, and reforms carried out in the system of administration. Even in the first decade of the administration of Sir Salar Jung Mukhtar-ul-Mulk Bahadur, these reforms and reorganisations, which I am shortly to review, had not been fully developed, owing to many obstacles in the various phases of the State. Leaving aside all the minor reforms from the beginning of the present administration, i.e., from 1263 Fasli, although they paved the way for the more important and complete reorganisation which dates its origin in the administrative branch from 1274 F., when a board of administration or Majlis Intizam-i-Malguzari was established. In the executive branch it dates from 1275 Fasli, when the whole Divani territory was divided into districts for the purpose of revenue and judicial administration, called Zilabandi, after the model of the restored districts of Raichur and Naldrug, which were retransferred from the British administration on behalf of the Nizam-ul-Mulk to the Nizam-ul-Mulk's Government in 1271 Fasli.

3. The Government was carried on by the Prime Minister, Constitution of Government. Divan, or Regent, in consultation with the Co-Regent, advised by the British Resident in important matters, and assisted by a Peishkar or Deputy Minister and 4 (or 5) Departmental Ministers or Heads of Departments. The administration is divided into 14 departments, namely :—

- | | |
|--------------------|---|
| 1. Judicial. | 8. Military. |
| 2. Revenue. | 9. Finance. |
| 3. Police. | 10. Post. |
| 4. Public Works. | 11. Railway (State) and Telegraph. |
| 5. Education. | 12. Sarfkhas or His Highness' privy purse estate. |
| 6. Medical. | 13. Political. |
| 7. Municipalities. | 14. Legal. |

The four Departmental Ministers.

4. The first seven of the above 14 departments are under the control of separate Ministers (Sadar-ul-Mihams) who communicate directly with the Prime Minister or Madar-ul-Miham through the Secretaries to the Government. The four Sadar-ul-Mihams are :—

- (1) Navvab Bashir-ud-Dowlah Bahadur having the charge of Judicial and Jail administration.
- (2) Navvab Mukarram-ud-Dowlah Bahadur having the Revenue Department in all its branches under his charge.
- (3) Navvab Shamshir Jung Bahadur in charge of the Police Department.
- (4) Navvab Shahab Jung Bahadur who has charge of the Public Works, Municipal, Educational and Medical Departments.
5. There is a Semi Sadar-ul-Miham, who acts as such without any official designation. I mean Navvab Ashja-ud-Dowlah Munir

Jung Bahadur in charge of the Irregular Military (Jamadari) Control Office (Nazm-i-Jamiat).

The Peishkar or the Deputy Minister, Raja Rajaian Raja Narender Bahadur, has also a share in the administration of the Irregular Troops, and discharges certain duties connected therewith. All other departments of the Government are under the immediate control of the Regent or Prime Minister, the Navvab Sir Salar Jung Mukhtar-ul-Mulk, who is the centre of all executive authority.

6. The Secretariat Departments under the Prime Minister are :—

1. Judicial and Police, one Secretary.
2. Revenue, one Secretary and one Assistant.
3. Public Works, one Secretary and three Assistants.
4. Military Irregular or Jamadari, one Secretary and one Assistant.
5. Military Reformed Troops, one Secretary and one Assistant.
6. Miscellaneous, one Secretary and one Assistant.
7. English Office, in which the Military Secretary and Assistant act as Private Secretary and Assistant.
8. Sarfkhas, one Secretary and one Assistant.
9. Political Office, one Mir Munshi.
10. Legal, one Secretary who also acts as the Civil Judge of the Suburban Court.

Besides these, the Finance or Account and Audit Department, Central Treasury, Mint, and Post Office are also under the direct charge of the Prime Minister (Madar-ul-Miham).

7. The Prime Minister has in his hands the patronage of the Civil, Military, and Public Works services. The power of the purse in respect to the public expenditure, with the exception of a few emergencies, as the appointment of some temporary writers, and the fixed contingency charges, is centred in the Government, by whom grants are made under the annual budget system on detailed estimates for each department.

9. The centre of the Executive Administration in the Divani districts is the Aval or first talukdar, in whom are lodged all the revenue, criminal, and civil powers. The Superintendent of Police, called Mahdamin Kotwali, is the right hand of the Aval talukdar. The ordinary Jails, while placed in the hands of his Judicial Assistant, called Madadgar Adalat, are under the general control of the talukdar as a Magistrate. A similar arrangement is carried out in the Department of Education, which I will describe in another chapter. The Department of Public Works, while placed under the immediate charge of the Executive Engineer, is under the talukdar's general control.

10. The first talukdar is the executive chief and administrator of the district committed to his charge and is supreme over everything and every one, even in the civil and criminal administration of the district. As District Magistrate he is also the head of the Department of Criminal Justice, in which he is charged with the summary trial of all minor and serious crimes. In the former he passes his judgment, and in the latter he sends up his file of proceedings for confirmation of the sentence to the Divisional or Sadar talukdar. He has similar power in civil suits, the value or subject-matter of which exceeds Rs. 2,000. He, however, generally distributes and superintends the judicial work instead of performing a large share of it himself.

11. The first talukdar is assisted by second and third Other District, Tahsil and talukdars (Duim and Siim) having Village Officers. executive and judicial powers, and the Judicial Assistant (Madadgar Adalat Zila) who has judicial authority only. The Muhtamim Kotwali Zila or District Superintendent of Police, who is head of the Police in the district, confines his attention to Police administration and other kindred subjects. The tahsildars or taluka or sub-divisional officers combine revenue with their judicial functions and exercise in their own jurisdiction the delegated powers of the district officers, except in matters of Police duty, over which they have only judicial and no executive control. These compose the lowest official stratum in the district, except the village officers, Patels and Patwaris, upon whom the Executive Government can depend, and who are the agents of the superior executive officers in all departments.

12. Above the Zila talukdars are the Sadar talukdars or Divisional Commissioners. Their duties are principally those of supervision over the executive branch, especially in the Revenue Department. They exercise control over the talukdar's proceedings. They have two assistants, each in the Revenue and Judicial Departments. As divisional judicial officers they hear appeals from the decisions of the first, second, and third talukdars in revenue summary cases, civil suits, and criminal cases. They also decide criminal cases referred to by the District Magistrates as a Court of Sessions, but without a fresh trial and without jury or assessors. In revenue matters the Sadar talukdars are in their turn subject to the orders of the Revenue Minister or Sadar-ul-Miham Malguzari; in the administration of Justice and Jail Department they are subject to the Judicial Minister, Sadar-ul-Miham Adalat, but in criminal and civil cases the appeal against their decisions lies to the High Court or Majlis Aliya Adalat. In other executive matters they are directly under Government.

13. The revenue of Hyderabad proper or the Divani Districts is derived from the following principal sources:—The Land Revenue, the Abkari or Excise on Spirits and Intoxicating Drugs, Forest, Stamps, and Customs. Of these, the Land Revenue, Abkari and Stamps, are partly managed by the district talukdars and their establishments. The Customs of the frontier and the town-duty and the Abkari of the City of Hyderabad and Government forests are under special departments. These special departments are under the Talukdar Abkari (Abkari Collector), Muhtamim Chubina (Conservator of Forests), and Talukdar Karorgiri wa Sager Sarhaddat (Customs Collector). The district talukdars are controlled by the Sadar talukdars, who, as well as Collectors of Customs, Abkari, and the Conservator of Forests, are under the Revenue Minister (Sadar-ul-Miham-i-Malguzari).

The Survey and Settlement Department is nominally under the Revenue Sadar-ul-Miham, and has a staff of Commissioner, Superintendents of Survey, Deputy Superintendents, Assistants, and Sub-Assistants.

The Inam Department is managed by one Muhtamim, who is under the Revenue Minister, but it is under contemplation to add two more officers, and the Department is to be transformed into a Majlis or Board of Inam Commission.

14. The judicial organisation of the Hyderabad Government is as follows:—

(1) High Court Judges or Arkan Majlis Aliya Adalat ...	6
(2) Divisional Judicial Assistants or Madadgaran Sadar Adalat Asmat	5
(3) District Judicial Assistants or Madadgaran Adalat Asla	17
(4) City Civil Judge with Assistants or Nazim Adalat Divani Balda and his Naibs	4
(5) City Magistrate or Nazim Adalat Fuydari Balda with Assistants	4

- (6) Suburban Court Judge 1
 (7) Judge of Kam's Court or Nazim Dar-ul-Kaza 1
 (8) Judge of the Arab Court or Nazim Kazaya-i-Arab. 1

The functions of the High Court Judges and the several judicial Assistants are exclusively judicial, and include both criminal and civil jurisdiction.

The others have either civil or criminal jurisdiction as appears from their designations.

Executive and Judicial Staff in the Mufassil.

15. The following are the Executive and Judicial Offices in the mufassil of Hyderabad territories:—

Each division is administered by a Sadar talukdar with two assistants in the Revenue and Judicial Departments. A Divisional Police Officer, an Executive Engineer, and a Medical Officer is attached to the Sadar talukdar's headquarters, as well as an Educational Inspector.

In every district at headquarters there is a first talukdar, one or two second talukdars, and a third talukdar, a Judicial Assistant, a District Superintendent of Police, an Assistant Engineer and a Municipal Inspector; a Public Treasury, a Jail, a School, and a Post Office.

In the interior of Districts.

In the interior of each district there are several tahsildars, each over a tahsil or taluka, and Police Officers.

Almost every village has a complete staff of village officers, viz., one Patwari, two Patels, Revenue and Police, a Setsindhi, a Tolari, a Neri (in Telingana), and a Dheir.

16. Hyderabad, the Capital of His Highness the Nizam-ul-Mulk's Dominions, has a special organization of its own. Civil suits above a certain amount, as well as criminal cases of the Sessions trials, are tried under the original jurisdiction of the Majlis Aliya Adalat or High Court of Judicature. There is a Kazi's Court, which confines itself to matrimonial suits and has only a local jurisdiction, besides a Civil Court called Adalat Diwani Khord with a Nazim and three assistants and a City Magistrate's Court called Faujdar Khord with a Magistrate and three deputies. A separate establishment of Police for the Andarun-i-Balda (interior of the City) is under the orders of a Kotwal, Commissioner of Police, which is a highly responsible post. The Police for the City Suburbs or Berun-i-Balda is under charge of a Chief Superintendent of Police. In revenue matters the City with its Suburbs forms part of no district. The customs or town-duty levied on the products of the country, and the frontier duty upon the imports not paid at the frontier, are under the Customs Collector. Mint, Stamp and Post Offices are under the charge of their respective heads. The affairs of the Municipality and registration of sale deeds are managed by the Municipal Department under the Miscellaneous Minister. But it is under contemplation to appoint a Municipal Board and a Municipal Commissioner shortly for the City. The central treasury in the City is immediately under the Minister. The opium shop in the City are under the City Kotwal. No liquor shops are allowed in the City. The Abkari Department for the Suburbs, Residency Bazaar and Secunderabad is under the Abkari Collector.

17. In regard to the administration of Civil Justice the Hyderabad Majlis Aliya Adalat or High Court exercises an appellate, a legal and equitable jurisdiction. It has also original jurisdiction within the City (Andarun and Berun) limits in civil suits over a certain amount of the suit. Below the High Court are Divisional Commissioners and their assistants, the District Officers or first talukdars, their assistants, second and third talukdars and tahsildars in the mufassil; and all the City Civil, Criminal, Insolvency and Dar-ul-Kaza Courts, except the Suburban Court.

The jurisdiction of a first talukdar or his Judicial Assistant extends to all original suits cognizable by a Civil Court.

The jurisdiction of a second talukdar extends to all suits in which the amount of or value of the subject-matter in dispute exceeds Rs. 1,000, but does not exceed 2,000 Rupees.

The third talukdar has jurisdiction above Rs. 300, not exceeding 1,000 Rupees.

The tahsildar tries all civil suits up to Rupees 300.

Appeal from the tahsildar's decisions lies to the first talukdar or his Judicial Assistant. The appeal from the third, second and first talukdars, including his Judicial Assistant, lies to the Divisional Court.

Appeal from the decisions of Sadar Adalats or Divisional Courts and against the City Civil Court and Dar-ul-Kaza lies to the High Court.

There is no appeal against the orders of the High Court.

The appeal from the orders of the Suburban Court lies direct to the Government.

The decisions of the several courts in cases of cash transactions are final to a certain extent. They are as follows :—

First talukdars	Rs.	300
Sadar talukdars.....	„	1,000
City Civil Court	„	300

18. Criminal Justice is administered by the High Court, the Criminal Administration. Divisional Courts, the District Courts of the first, second and third talukdars, and tahsildars, and in the City by the City Magistrate. The Customs Officers, First talukdar, his Judicial Assistant, Muhtamin of a custom house, and Amin (Inspector) are entrusted with criminal powers for certain offences relating to the breach of Customs rules and smuggling of the duty.

The High Court in its original side tries by a single judge all original cases separately specified. They are committed to it directly by the Police. Such cases are not tried first by the City Magistrate. On its appellate side the High Court, by a bench of two or more judges, disposes of appeals from the convictions of the City Magistrate and the Divisional Courts. It has no power to revise, upon reference from the Divisional Courts or Magistrate, the decision of inferior courts, when in error upon point of law or procedure. This duty is in the jurisdiction of the Judicial Minister, the Sadarul-Milham-i-Adalat. But it confirms, modifies or annuls sentences of death passed by the Divisional Courts.

19. The District and Divisional Courts are presided over by a single judge, who is either the first talukdar or Sadar talukdar or their Judicial Assistants, both of equal powers. There are no juries or assessors in the Sessions Courts. The powers of the Magistrates are as follow :—

Tahsildars	Six months' imprisonment, 150 Rupees fine and twelve stripes.
Third Talukdars.....	One year's imprisonment, 300 Rupees fine and fifteen stripes.
Second Talukdars	Two years' imprisonment, 500 Rupees fine and fifteen stripes.
First Talukdars	Four years' imprisonment, 1,000 Rupees fine and 39 stripes.
Sadar Talukdars.....	Ten years' imprisonment, 4,000 Rupees fine and 39 stripes.
High Court, Original Side.	Imprisonment for 14 years, fine and 39 stripes.
High Court, as Court of Reference.....	Imprisonment for life, capital punishment, fine and 39 stripes.
City Magistrate	Three years' imprisonment, 500 Rupees fine and 39 stripes.
Assistant City Magistrate.	One year's imprisonment, 300 Rupees fine and fifteen stripes.
Amins of Customs	One month's imprisonment and 5 Rupees fine.
Muhtamins of Customs...	Three months' imprisonment and 10 Rupees fine.
Talukdar of Customs.....	Four years' imprisonment and 1,000 Rupees fine.

20. Appeals from the tahsildar's decisions in criminal cases lie to the first talukdar or his Judicial Assistant. The appeals from the third, second, and first talukdars lie to the Divisional Courts. Appeals against the decisions of the Divisional Courts, City Magistrate's Court, and talukdar of Customs Court lie to the High Court. Appeals against the decisions of the Customs Amin lie to the Muhtamin, and that against the decisions of the latter to the Customs Collector.

21. The Jail Department is administered by the Judicial Minister. The District Judicial Assistants to the first talukdars are in charge of the district Jails. They have a Darogha under them in each district. There are 16 district jails. In the City there are five jails, four for the City and one as a central jail, under a Superintendent.

22. The Police consists of two distinct forces, the general and the village Police. The former is divided into several grades. The members of this force, beginning as Javans or constables on a monthly pay of Rs. 7 or 8, have the opportunity of rising by steadiness and smartness to the rank of Dafadar or Jamadar, head constable, chief constable, and in a few cases of an Amin or Inspector. The last-mentioned class of officers receive a monthly salary varying from 60 to 100 Rupees. It has not been the policy or wish of the Government to give the general Police a military character, or to subject them to military discipline or training. For this reason a portion only of the entire force is furnished with arms, to whom the duty of guarding Jails and escorting prisoners and treasure is allotted. Even from them but a slight knowledge of drill and elementary acquaintance with the use of their weapons are required. The more purely Police functions are discharged equally by members, both of the armed and of the unarmed branches of the force. The total strength of the general Police of all grades at the close of 1289 F. amounted to 14,055, of whom 3,250 are employed in the metropolis, and 10,805 in the districts. The strength of the Police in different districts is determined by a consideration of the nature of the country, the character of the people, and the proximity of the important Jagirs. This amount excludes the Sarfkhas Police force. The mounted Police force numbers 458, which is included in the above figure. The whole Police force have lately undergone reduction in numbers on the ground of economy.

23. The Divani territory being divided into five divisions, the Administration of Police. administration of Police in each division, subject to the general control exercised by Government through the Police Minister, is vested in the Sadar Muhtamins or Divisional Superintendents of Police. In each district the executive management of the Police is chiefly under the control and direction of the Muhtamin or District Superintendent of Police, though the Magistrate of the district has also a voice upon some points. The Superintendent of Police is invested with magisterial powers, but his jurisdiction is limited to departmental offences. Similar powers are conferred upon the Divisional Superintendents. The Superintendents also exercise magisterial powers in the preservation of peace, the prevention of crime, and the conduct of proceedings preliminary to trials. The Police sub-division (taluka) of a district is the same as the sub-division for revenue purposes (taluka or tahsil). The officer in charge of the sub-division is styled Amin. Though holding a position subordinate to the tahsildar, in his judicial capacity, the Amin is, so far as the executive management of the Police force stationed in the sub-division is concerned, directly subordinate to the Muhtamin Kotwali or the Superintendent of Police.

24. The general Police force allotted to each sub-division is divided into a number of outposts, each The Police Jawk. party (jawk) being placed under the control of a Dafadar or Jamadar. The members of each jawk or Police guard move about from village to village within the limits of their charge, and thus a regular system of patrol is maintained throughout each Divani district of His Highness' Dominions.

25. The village Police are subject to the control and direction of the revenue authorities of their respective talukas and districts. The special duty of the village Police is to prevent crime and public nuisances and to detect and arrest offenders within the village limits. In each village there is a Police Patel responsible for the performance of the police duties of the village. There is one Set-sindhi for every fifty houses in each village. He is the village watchman and is subordinate to the Police Patel. There are generally two Patels in a village; one of whom has the charge of revenue and the other of the Police administration. The village Police, being the servants of the village community, used to receive certain perquisites from the members of the village in the shape of corn at each harvest. These have however been commuted for cash payments provided from the village service fund. They are also paid by Government in cash. The village watchman is the eyes and ears of the State in all criminal matters. To him the district Police look for information, and without his aid few offences would be traced out, and justice but seldom be vindicated. The Police Patel is bound to furnish the Magistrate of the district with any returns or information called for, to keep him constantly informed as to the state of crime, and all matters connected with the village, the police, and the health and general condition of the community in his village. The village Police were paid through the revenue officers, but it has been lately proposed to pay them through their own officers.

26. The revenue administration of the Divani districts is carried on under the supervision of the Revenue Administration. Government by the Revenue Minister (Sadar-ul-Miham-i-Malguzari), and the following officers under him:—Five Commissioners or Sadar talukdars, 16 first talukdars of the districts and 1 Amaldar of a sub-district, 21 second talukdars, 17 third talukdars, and 105 tahsildars and Naib tahsildars. On an average a district contains about 6 talukas, each of which contains at an average 131 Government villages.

27. Each village has its regular complement of officers, who are usually Watan-dars or hereditary Village Officers. village officers. The officers, on whose services Government is mainly dependent, consist of the Patels, who are generally two in each village, one for revenue and the other for police purposes; the Patwari who is the clerk and accountant; the Talari who is the village peon for collection purposes; a Setsindhi for every 50 houses in the village as a watchman; and a Neri in the Telingana villages, who has the charge of irrigational works; and a Dheir, a man of low caste employed as a watchman, messenger and Begari in the village establishment. These village officers are paid by Government and the village community. The Patels and Patwaris get their remunerations for revenue realized at a certain fixed scale and besides are paid at the rate of 2 pies each out of one anna from the village service fund. Each Talari and Setsindhi gets 24 Rupees, and a Neri 36 Rupees per annum from the Government. The Talari also shares 2 pies per anna of the village service fund. The Dheir gets 4 pies out of the one anna cess of the service fund. Every occupant of fields is given a separate receipt book, called Chawpri, or Paoti, in which the total amount of his holding is entered, and the Patwari is bound under heavy penalties to record in it the sums he has paid.

28. The annual Jamabandi is made out each year, irrespective of the crops standing or removed. As there are a good many unoccupied lands, especially in the Telingana, the Jamabandi system, where the regular revenue survey and settlement are not carried out, is not, as far as Government interests are concerned, a very satisfactory business. It is made out by deducting the lands given up this year from the Jamabandi of the last year, and adding thereto lands taken up. This makes the gross rent-roll. But it is divided into annual remissions, owing to the vicissitudes of the season and the net demand. As there is no proper check to the amount of annual remissions, the fields for which remission is made cannot be pointed out at the spot. This Jamabandi system brings the Nazims, or the first, second and third talukdars in annual contact with each or most of the villages in their charge, and enables them to judge of the village wants and requirements.

29. Over each taluka or tahsil there is an officer termed tahsildar, whose salary varies from Rs. 80 Taluka or Tahsil. per mensem to Rs. 175. The tahsildar is responsible for the treasury business of his tahsil. He has to see that the instalments are punctually paid by the several villages, and that the village accounts are duly kept, and that the occupants get their payments duly receipted, that the boundary marks are kept in proper repair, and, in fact, that the village officers do their work properly. The system is entirely one of check and percentage examination. A certain number of villages is apportioned to the several members of the tahsildar's establishment, and placed under their supervision; it is his business to see by personal examination that they do their work.

The legal Secretary will be the permanent Vice-President of the Committee and will in the first instance receive the appeals and issue final orders with the sanction of the Committee. The powers of the High Court are to be recast and extended to the selection, appointment and promotion of officers of a certain standing.

47. Munsifs, Sadar Munsifs and Mir-Adls are to be appointed in talukas, districts and divisions, respectively, to decide civil cases under the jurisdiction of the Mojlis Aliya or High Court, and the tahsildars, talukdars and Sadar talukdars will have no jurisdiction in civil cases in those talukas, districts and divisions in which this arrangement shall come into force.

The offices of the Assistant Secretary to the Minister, Public Works Department, and the Assistant Secretary to the Sadar-ul-Miham, Public Works Department, will be abolished. The Residency Surgeon will, as usual, have the control of the Medical Department and will correspond with Government through the Miscellaneous Secretary. The Education Secretariat to the Miscellaneous Sadar-ul-Miham is to be abolished, but the directorate is to remain intact under the Miscellaneous Secretary until the appointment of an Education Committee or a Director of Public Instruction. For the City Municipal management a Municipal Committee and the Municipal Inspector will be appointed and the District Municipalities will have their own Committees under the control of the Sadar talukdars. The allotment of allowances to mosques and other religious buildings will be under the control of the Municipal Committees.

50. The details of the proposed reorganisation and administrative changes is embodied in the draft notification hereto appended.

Details of the Proposed Reorganisation.

DRAFT OF THE NOTIFICATION CONCERNING THE PROPOSED RE-ORGANISATION AND ADMINIS-TRATIVE CHANGES IN HIS HIGHNESS' GOVERNMENT.

A natural anxiety to secure the best interests of the country has invariably led Government to adopt measures calculated to enhance the prosperity and well-being of the ryots, and the population generally, to improve the quality and quantity of local manufactures, and to give a healthy impetus to trade. The various reforms which have been introduced into the working of the different departments, from time to time, have all tended towards the attainment of these objects. A comparison of the past administration of the State with its present condition will at once exhibit the great advances that have been made in this direction and the systematic methods (though still admitting of reforms) which have been introduced of transacting public business. In 1281 A. H. a Board of Revenue Majlis-i-Malguzari was established to look into the administration of revenue and to systematize the working of the Stamp, Abkari, Customs and Police Departments. It was found that great confusion was caused by the want of a systematic division of the territories into talukas, districts and divisions. The subject was at once taken into hand, and the result was the introduction of the Zilabandi system, i.e., the division of land into talukas, districts, and divisions, with well-defined boundaries. This work was finished about 1282 Hijri, and districts bearing a close resemblance to each other in points of usage, customs, language, &c., were classed as a division. In the abolition of the Revenue Board in 1284 A.H. the opportunity was taken to select from its members officers for the post of Sadar talukdar, one being placed in charge of each division. Similarly, in the Judicial and Criminal Departments, reforms and improvements have from time to time been introduced. Formerly judicial officers were styled Mir-Adls and decided judicial and criminal cases. At the head of them was an office called Tashih-i-Talukat, whose confirmation in important cases was necessary to give effect to the decision of Mir-Adls and Munsifs. But when in 1278 A.H. certain districts were restored to the Nizam's Government, a separate Judicial Department called Sadar Adalat-i-Azla-i-Mustarida was created. Subsequently, in 1280 A.H., the two departments were amalgamated under the designation of Sadar Adalat-i-Azla-i-Mustaridawca Tashih-i-Talukat. Its office was to hear appeals from the decisions of taluka and District Judicial Officers, and hence, in 1281 A.H., its name was changed to be Majlis Murafa-i-Sani, and subsequently, in 1282, to Sadar Murafa-ua-Ehtamam-i-Adalath-i-Talukat. After the introduction of the Zilabandi system, and the appointment of tahsildars, talukdars, and Sadar talukdars, the judicial and criminal work were also made over to them and the name of the head office changed to Murafa-i-Azla. A Judicial Board was also established to hear appeals from the decisions of any Court and the Murafa-i-Azla was absorbed into it. Great improvements have also been made in the administration of the Police Department. A regular Police force did not exist, its duties were entrusted to village Chaukidars, Jevans of Sibandi and Nizamat. But when, in 1282 A.H., the Zilabandi system was introduced, a Police force, with necessary number of constables at all Chaukies and Thanas, tahsils and departments, were organized by the Revenue Board then sitting. Up to the end of the year 1283 A.H., the Department, as it then existed, was administered by the Board. In 1284 A.H., however, a Sadar Muhtamim was placed at the head of the Department responsible only to the Minister. The Public Works, Municipal, Educational and Medical Departments were formerly also placed in charge of the Revenue Board. In 1284 A.H. the Public Works Department was formed into a separate charge and entrusted to an officer called Sadar Muhtamim or Superintending Engineer. The Municipal, Educational and Medical Departments, however, continued under the administration of the Revenue Board. The reorganisation and the formation of a new department requiring a strict supervision overburdened the Minister's office and necessitated the appointment of a few select nobles of the State possessing abilities to discharge the heavy duties entrusted to them, and the confidence of the people to carry on the higher administrative functions of the various departments. In 1286 A.H., this proposal was carried into effect and four Sadar-ul-Mihams with Secretaries and Assistant Secretaries, and a complement of ministerial officers, were appointed to look after the Judicial, the Revenue, the Police and the Miscellaneous Departments, the last comprising the Public Works, Municipal, Educational and Medical Departments.) Government has always been anxious to scrupulously maintain all Inam lands, and other gifts, held by virtue of lawful gift-deeds and Sunuds. It came, however, to the notice of Government that many people were in unlawful possession of Government land, and could produce no title-deeds in proof of the legitimate grant of their so-called Inams to them, and that this had entailed heavy pecuniary loss on Government. It was, therefore, resolved to organize a separate department under the designation of Mahakma-i-Daryaft-i-Inam whose duty it would be to ascertain if the occupiers of Inam lands had come to be possessed of them by fair and legitimate means, and on being satisfied that such was the case, to allow them to retain possession of them. In the event of there being reason to believe that any Inam holder had become possessed of his Inam by fraudulent and unfair means, they were to oust him after careful and searching enquiry. This rule was, however, not to be strictly enforced in the case of parties that had been in possession of their lands for a considerable length of time. The Department was organized in the year 1292 Hijri, and as there was much pressure of work, and cases of long standing were in arrears, two additional members were appointed to conduct the work of the Department about the end of the last year. The soundness of this measure has lately been amply proved by the fact that a large number of cases of long standing have been disposed of since the appointment of these new members. With the view of reforming the revenue administration of the country another department had to be created. On the abolition of the system of farming the revenue to private individuals, the administration of land Revenue had been organised by the Raiatwari system. Payment of the Government demand in cash instead of in kind had been introduced, and the division of land into different classes for purpose of assessment roughly effected. The accurate area of the different holdings and the real productive capacity of land being, however, unknown, it was impossible to fix a moderate and equitable assessment. On the one side the ryots complained from year to year of high and inequitable assessment, while on the other side the Revenue Collectors complained of misappropriation on the part of the Patels and Patwaris. It was, therefore, the unanimous opinion of the Revenue Officers that, to remove the aforesaid defects in the administration, a Revenue Survey and Settlement Department should be organized. In the year 1294 A.H. (1877 A.D.) this Department was accordingly created. The result of this measure is that complaints of unequal assessment have ceased and that the revenue is collected with greater ease and at less cost to the State.

In the Telingana districts, where tanks are very numerous, there were many petty irrigation works, which it was not possible for the Public Works Department to supervise. A separate arrangement was therefore made in this part of the country, by which certain amount was annually placed at the disposal of the divisional and district authorities for the maintenance and repair of the smaller works. These administrative reforms have entailed much additional work upon all offices and have greatly increased the number of references to the Sadar-ul-Miham and the Minister. In this way the experience of the last few years has shown that much of the time of the chief officers of the administration has been sacrificed to matters of minor importance which ought to have been devoted to other and higher duties. It is not matter for surprise that there was in consequence an increase in the quantity of work to be performed by the different departments. Subordinate departments and offices being then in their infancy, had not been in the beginning granted adequate powers, and subordinate officers had therefore to obtain the sanction of the Sadar-ul-Miham even in petty matters. The consequence was that a considerable portion of the Sadar-ul-Miham's time was wasted on correspondence of a trifling nature, which necessarily entailed unnecessary delay in the working of the different departments, and did not allow the Sadar-ul-Miham and Madar-ul-Miham sufficient time for the consideration of important measures of reform. The Sadar-ul-Miham's offices being separate and distinct from that of the Madar-ul-Miham, unnecessary correspondence occasionally took place on trifling matters, and occupied considerable time. In order to remove these defects, it is considered desirable to revise and enhance the powers hitherto enjoyed by the subordinate offices and to transfer the powers heretofore exercised by the Sadar-ul-Mihams to a Board of Revenue, a high court and committees, and to delegate to them certain powers of administration, appointment and promotion. It is also desirable that the offices of the Sadar-ul-Mihams be amalgamated with those of the Madar-ul-Miham and that the Sadar-ul-Mihams be in future styled Mo-in-ul-Mihams, or assistant Ministers, to render assistance to the Prime Minister in the discharge of his heavy administrative duties. The extent to which the Mo-in-ul-Mihams are to exercise control in the different departments in their charge is to be determined by the Minister in consultation with them. Part of the work of the Madar-ul-Miham's office is to be disposed of by Mo-in-ul-Mihams at their own discretion and on their own responsibility, while the remainder is to be submitted to the Madar-ul-Miham with any remarks or recommendations that the Mo-in-ul-Mihams may have to make or offer, and this arrangement will, it is expected, allow sufficient time for the consideration of administrative changes and reforms. It is, therefore, notified for public information that the following changes have been made in the existing system of administration :—

1st.—That the offices of the Sadar-ul-Mihams are amalgamated with those of Madar-ul-Mihams and the posts of Secretaries and Assistant Secretaries and other establishments connected with them are hereby abolished. The Sadar-ul-Mihams shall in future, by virtue of their offices, be styled Mo-in-ul-Mihams and shall have the following departments in their charge :—

I.—Departments in charge of the Judicial Mo-in-ul-Miham—

1. Civil Courts.
2. Criminal Courts.

7. Coal Fields.
8. Workshops and Stores.

10. Translation Department.
11. Government Printing Press.

2nd.—A Legal Secretary and adviser to the Minister has been appointed to revise and reform laws, rules and regulations for the guidance of the officers of the Judicial, Police and Jail Departments and to pronounce on general legal questions.

3rd.—The preparation of statements showing the condition of the country, the supervision of the working of Mint, Post-office, Stamps, Account and General Office, Treasury, Revenue Survey and Settlement, and the preparation of the Budget and the General Administration Report, will be carried on by the Minister's Revenue Office.

4th.—To look after the revenue affairs, a Revenue Board has been appointed with powers superior to all the other revenue officers. The general administration of revenue, the supervision of the working of all revenue offices and the appointments, transfers and selection of officers of a certain class have been entrusted to it. The Board will have no power to interfere with the office of the Commissioner of Revenue Survey and Settlements and the Stamp Office. Both of these will be under the direct supervision of the Minister's Revenue Office.

5th.—To put a stop to the interference of the offices of the Sadar-ul-Mihams and Madar-ul-Mihams in the working of the Judicial Department, it has been proposed to appoint a Supreme Council to hear appeals from the decisions of the High Court. The Supreme Council will be composed of the Minister or his Assistant as President or Vice-President, as the occasion may require, a few educated nobles of the State and officers of high standing as members. The Legal Secretary will be the permanent Vice-President of the Committee, and will, as in the first instance, receive the appeals and issue final orders with the sanction of the Committee.

6th.—The powers of the Majlis-i-Aliya (High Court) have been recast and greater latitude has been allowed to them in the selection, appointment and promotion of officers of a certain standing.

7th.—Munsifs, Sadar Munsifs and Mir-Adls have been appointed in talukas, districts and divisions, respectively, to decide civil cases. They have been placed under the Majlis-i-Aliya. The tahsildars, talukdars and Sadar talukdars of those talukas, districts and divisions, in which this arrangement is brought into force, shall have no jurisdiction in civil cases.

8th.—The Judicial office of the Minister will exercise the same powers in the Judicial, Police and Jail Departments, which it has done heretofore, except that all legal questions from the subordinate officers will be referred to the Legal Secretary as laid down in para. 7.

9th.—The Hyderabad as well as the District Municipal Committees, the Gazetteer Office, the Mosques, and other such places of worship, the Translation Department, the Government Press, the Medical and the Educational Departments will be placed in charge of the Miscellaneous Secretary who will exercise the powers of the Director of Public Instructions until the appointment of the Education Committee or the Director of Public Instruction.

10th.—The removal of the Police Sadar-ul-Miham to be the Police Assistant to the Minister has necessitated the appointment of an Inspector-General of District Police. The District Jails will also be placed in his charge. The office of Divisional Inspectors of Police will be abolished, they being no longer necessary. The Inspector-General will have no authority over the City or Suburban Police (to be amalgamated) and the City Jails.

11th.—The Controlling Officers of the Criminal Courts will exercise greater powers than heretofore in the control and criminal branch of the Police Department. But the internal administration and discipline of the Police force will entirely rest with the Inspector-General.

12th.—The abolition of the office of the Miscellaneous Sadar-ul-Miham, the Secretary to the Sadar-ul-Miham, will be designated Assistant Secretary to the Minister in the Department of Public Works and, as heretofore, will exercise control over the Public Works Department. Three officers have been appointed to be always on inspection tour in districts to supervise and to report on the working of the Department and to remedy the defects that they may find in it. The offices of the Assistant Secretary to the Minister, Public Works Department, and the Assistant Secretary to the Sadar-ul-Miham, Public Works Department, have been abolished. The Residency Surgeon will be the controlling officer of the Medical Department and Medical Stores, and will correspond with the Minister through the Miscellaneous Secretary. The abolition of the office of the Miscellaneous Minister has rendered the Education Secretariat unnecessary, but the directorate will remain just as it is, and, as mentioned above, will be under the Miscellaneous Secretary until the appointment of an Education Committee or a Director of Public Instruction. For the City Municipal management, a Municipal Committee and Municipal Inspector have been appointed. District Municipalities will have their own committees under the control of the Sadar talukdar. The allotment of allowances to Mosques and other religious buildings will be controlled by the Municipal Committee.

13th.—The changes proposed in the various departments, offices and Municipalities mentioned in this Notification will come into force from to-day's date so far as they are ready. For other departments the reorganisation scheme will be acted upon as soon as possible.

14th.—Although in the Notification, dated 10th Rabi-ul-Avval 1299 A.H., principles have been laid down with reference to the appointment and promotion of Government officers and servants according to seniority and merit; under the new organisation steps have been taken to place these principles on the soundest possible foundation. As regards appointments and promotions in the various office establishments, that is left entirely to the opinion of the heads of the offices themselves; but as regards officers, their promotion from one grade to another is made dependent on their territory, provided their superior officer certifies to their ability and good behaviour. When, however, the highest grade in any particular class of appointment has been reached by an officer, his further promotion will not merely rest on seniority, but will have to be supported by special claims on the score of distinguished services or exceptional qualifications. With reference to appointments of officers, those in the lower grades, such as tahsildars and others of similar rank, will be nominated in the first instance by the district and divisional Officers and their nomination will have to be sanctioned and confirmed by the Board of Revenue and Government respectively. As regards higher officers, such as second and third class talukdars and others of the similar official status, their nomination will be made by the Board of Revenue and sanctioned by the Government Officers; higher than those last mentioned will be entirely selected and appointed by the Government.

15th.—A character and service book will be kept in office for subordinate officials, and a civil list for all officers with particulars respecting the service, &c., will be published periodically.

16th.—The Government has always considered it a point of extreme importance that the inhabitants of this State should receive education and training of a high order, and it has made strenuous efforts at every time to bring about this result. It has always earnestly desired that the rising generation generally and the sons of the nobility and gentry in particular should be so trained and brought up as to be able to take an active part in the Government of the country. In order that this object may be attained.—First, that those young men who have already received a liberal education should now receive an official training in the various branches of the administration by being attached to some British Province where they would be afforded ample opportunities of gaining a knowledge of their duties; and, Secondly, that those young men, whose education is either incomplete or defective, should be either sent to some suitable college in British territory or educated up to the necessary standard at Hyderabad. To supervise the education of these young men and everything connected with their training a committee composed of respectable gentlemen and Government officers of high rank and position will be appointed, and it will receive every kind of encouragement and support at the hands of the Government. What rights these young men so educated will be entitled to will be hereafter published.
